BAIXA, CHIADO, AVENIDA DA LIBERDADE AND MARQUÊS DE POMBAL

The charm and elegance of the city centre

This is the central, and unmissable artery running through the heart of Lisboa. As you set out from Marquês de Pombal towards the river Tagus, you find yourself walking down the Avenida da Liberdade. Numerous top flight international brands have shops along both flanks of this broad avenue, with its trees and outdoor cafes that draw you on to downtown Lisboa. When you arrive at Rossio, you can immediately feel the history and ambience of the real Lisboa. Walk the ornamental Portuguese paving that lines the city centre, rebuilt in the Pombaline era, following the earthquake of 1755. The statute of D. Pedro IV (King Pedro IV) points the way to Rua Augusta, and its shops, restaurants and street artists. At the other end, this street opens out into Terreiro do Paço. Take a break at one of the many outdoor cafes and eateries in Terreiro do Paço, right next to the Tejo River, before going on to Chiado, currently Lisboa's trendiest neighborhood. In Chiado, diversity and modernity intermingle with the history of the poets and artists who stamped their mark in the 19th Century, making this a hothouse of literature and poetry, a starting point for the Romanticism. On these streets, amongst people who have chosen to live or work in Chiado, you can feel the creativity and how the contrasts and irreverences have made the place so magical.

ALFAMA, CASTELO, GRAÇA AND MOURARIA

A neighborhood of history and stunning views

The city becomes increasingly iconic and picturesque, the further you delve into its historic and medieval districts. As you walk along the stone-paved, narrow and often steep streets of Alfama and Mouraria, you are literally transported back in time. Perched at the very top of this hill is Castelo S. Jorge (St. George's Castle), that occupies a strategic position and offers unrivalled views of the city. On your way there, you will bump into some unique peoples, stories and traditions. The popular and yet melancholy music of Fado infuses the air and tells you that you are in Alfama. From Mouraria, a multicultural melting pot of peoples and traditions, climb up to Graça. Don't forget to stop at the various viewpoints along the way, particularly those of Graça itself, with its views of Mouraria, and Senhora do Monte, with its 12th Century porched church. Take a seat on one of the garden benches and drink in the landscape before you. You can also get to Graça on the famous Nr. 28 tram.

BAIRRO ALTO, BICA, CAIS DO SODRÉ AND SANTOS

Have some fun in Lisboa

During the day, the historic Bairro Alto and Bica quarters fascinate visitors with their picturesqueness and neighborhood feel. Bairro Alto is home to a multitude of alternative shops, second-hand clothes stores, hairdressers, record stores, art galleries and much more. They blend with the diversity of the local populace to create a truly unique ambience. At night everything changes and a party atmosphere prevails. The area is the epitome of Lisboa nightlife, the central axis around which a good night out revolves. Bairro Alto is cherished for its history and for its restaurants, bars and outdoor cafes with views of the city. From here, you can drop down through Bica, and its more offbeat bars, to Pink Street in Cais do Sodré. Here, thousands of people cruise the traffic-free street, to meet up with friends and party the night away. Santos, which also has its own fair share of bars and discos, is home to some of Lisboa's most popular nightspots. There are so many truly good options, that it is really hard to decide. The music, the happiness and the people, both locals and those who have come from far fill the streets, seeking fun, friendship and a chance to share experiences. This is literally a "funfair" for everybody who likes to enjoy their nightlife.

RIBEIRA DAS NAUS

The pleasure of the riverside

Recently renovated, this old boatyard is today a surprising river beach, with a large grassy area and broad steps extending down into the river. Even though it is forbidden to bathe, this area linking Cais das Colunas, in Praça do Comércio, to Cais do Sodré is inviting for sunbathing and resting one's feet after a hard day of pounding the streets. This is the hotspot to make the most of Lisboa's light and enjoy the best sunset in the city. It's a unique veranda onto the Tagus in a contemporary and attractive spot; a veritable river beach to be enjoyed in the city centre.

BELÉM AND AJUDA

Heritage and history with a special twist

Belém is a symbol of the history of the Portuguese Maritime Discoveries. It was from here that great adventurers set sail to discover the World in their fragile caravels. The UNESCO World Heritage sites of Jerónimos Monastery and Belém Tower, monuments in the Manueline style, enhance the atmosphere with their astonishing architecture.

On a more contemporary note, the Centro Cultural de Belém is renowned for its exhibitions and cultural initiatives as well as for Modern art at Berardo Museum. Before visiting the Coach Museum (Museu dos Coches) or the Navy Museum (Museu de Marinha) with their unique collections, don't forget to stop on the way for a pastel de Belém, one of the great delicacies of Lisboa and internationally renowned.

Make also time for visiting The National Palace of Ajuda dating from the 18th century (a new Wing at the Palace houses the Royal Treasure which includes the Crown Jewels and the Jewelry Treasures opened to the public on the 2nd semester of 2022) as well as the EDP Foundation with the Electricity Museum and the extraordinary MAAT on the river front.

XABREGAS, BEATO AND MARVILA

New neighborhood in town

Located in the eastern industrial part of the city, between Alfama and the modern Nations Park, this area is a hotspot with former abandoned warehouses converted into art galleries, restaurants, bars and many cultural spaces.

This diversity and creativity are placing this area on the map and ensuring this neighborhood is here to stay and evolve.

PARQUE DAS NAÇÕES

A new Lisboa on the waterfront

The Park of Nations is Lisboa at its most modern. On the east side of town, contemporary architecture now covers a vast area of urban regeneration.

The most well-known and most curious examples are the Portugal Pavilion roof and the Gare do Oriente. Its many green spaces along the river bank, the cable car, the Pavilion of Knowledge-Ciência Viva and the Oceanário (which has already welcomed millions of visitors and is one of the best in the World) make this neighborhood ideal for meetings and incentives as well as family outings. In addition to countless shopping and dining options, there are other venues as: the Altice Arena for international shows and Casino Lisboa to try your luck.

MUST DO'S IN LISBOA

One will discover better Lisboa when walking in our friendly city.

We are a historical city full of stories to tell, where the sun shines 290 days a year and the temperature rarely drops below 15°C. A city where you feel safe wandering around day or night, where the cuisine is dedicated to creating over a thousand ways to cook the beloved bacalhau (salted cod), and where you'll find hotels and restaurants to suit every taste, budget and requirement. Discover Lisboa, a city full of authenticity where old customs and ancient history intermix with cultural entertainment and hi-tech innovation. Lisboa is ageless, but it loves company, as you'll find out when you meet someone and ask for directions. After all, Lisboa is famous for its hospitality and the family-like way it welcomes visitors.

FADO THE SONG OF LISBOA

Classified as Intangible Cultural Heritage of Humanity by UNESCO since November 2011, Fado is the purest expression of Lisboa's "soul". Much more than just a song. Fado is a musical manifestation of feeling Portuguese and a city's way of life, always accompanied by the solemn and melancholy chords of the Portuguese guitar. Considered a brand inseparable from the culture and tradition of the Portuguese capital, Fado has been for at least two centuries, part of the city's heritage that endowed it with soul and voice. But since influences from overseas, and from various cultures which arrived in Lisboa can also be heard in Fado, Lisboa's song is now deservedly a shared heritage with the world. Inspired from a simple and sentimental language, Fado's universal character surpasses all barriers and is now enjoyed by millions of fans worldwide. This internationalization of Fado is greatly due to the charisma and the voice of Amália Rodrigues, the most renowned fado singer of all time, who from the 1950's took Lisboa's song to the most prestigious venues, from Russia to Japan. More recently, a new generation of singers of this genre has given the song a new vitality, placing it in the circuits of World Music. The ultimate international recognition of Fado comes with UNESCO's highest recognition, whose award of the Intangible Heritage of Humanity title makes this a perfect example of how a centuries-old tradition of a city becomes the identity symbol of a people. Therefore, whenever the lights are dimmed in a fado house and someone says "Silence, Fado is about to be sung", this is not just a ritual that is being performed. It is, as Amália Rodrigues would say, "a strange form of life" that is being renewed.

GASTRONOMY & WINES

Lisboa is very rich in flavours. Portuguese people seem to gravitate around dining tables where various generations gather, socialising and savouring delicacies nourishing body and soul. Portuguese gastronomy consists basically of a Mediterranean diet featuring a wide variety of healthy, colourful and aromatic dishes. Due to the proximity of the Atlantic Ocean the diversity of fresh fish and seafood is always present, Bacalhau (salted codfish) is the king, but the grilled sardines rule during the Santos Populares.

Who visits Lisboa can't afford to miss the pastel de nata sprinkled with cinnamon, the "Bica" (espresso in Portuguese) and the roasted chestnuts in Autumn.

To drink, nothing like the vast choice of Portuguese wines and the fruity sangria.

Lisboa has a wide variety of restaurants, terrace dining or private venues to choose from. Thanks to the high quality fresh products the local cuisine has become cherished worldwide, from Michelin Stars to traditional gastronomy, from innovative to high end menus - all can be experienced as an option for a successful event.

WORLD HERITAGE BY UNESCO IN BELÉM

Jerónimos Monastery - remarkable 16th century monument and the most impressive symbol of Portugal's power and wealth during the Age of Discoveries.

Belém Tower is one of Lisboa's most striking monuments and the symbol of a country historically moulded by its proximity to the ocean and its maritime discoveries of new worlds.

Discoveries by Portuguese navigators transformed Lisboa into the world's main trade hub in the 15th and 16th centuries.

AZULEJOS TILES

Explore this Lisboa's relevant art form, the perfect backdrop for Portuguese tile-making where the eras, styles and resistance to the passing of time are clearly visible. The azulejos of Lisboa, continue to dot the city in works of art that are unique anywhere in the World - the city has many stunning facades, from antique panels to more modern work, every neighborhood of Lisboa is a new added discovery.

TRAMS, LIFTS AND FUNICULARS

Don't forget to take one of the most iconic trips either on a tram - up and down the 7 hills, or on a lift or funicular for the very inspiring and photogenic views of Lisboa and the Tagus river.

PAINTED LISBOA: STREET ART

Street art is part of Lisboa's identity. The city is known as one of Europe's most important capitals in this respect, and there are many reasons – and works – for it to have earned this distinction. In the neighborhoods, on the streets, on murals and even on the pavement, you can find works by many recognised national and international artists. And, because the city's walls are a street art canvas, there is even a festival that is symbolically called Muro (Wall), which has already added colour to the neighborhoods of Lumiar (2019), Marvila (2017) and Bairro Padre Cruz (2016). So memorise the names, because they are well worth visiting. More than three dozen artists have left their marks on the buildings and walls of Lumiar, including Glam, Miguel Brum, Mosaik, MynameisnotSEM, Tamara Alves, Utopia and Pantónio from Portugal, Preta and Fulviet from Italy, San Spiga from Argentina and NSN997 from Spain. In Bairro Padre Cruz you will find works by the Spaniards Arys and Borondo, by the Portuguese Pariz One, Bordalo II, Mr.Dheo, Uber, Draw, Tamara Alves and Mário Belém, by Mathieu Trembelin from France and the Dutch pair, Telmo and Miel. Among the reasons for visiting the eastern part of the city are the works by Cix Mugre from Mexico, Medianeras from Argentina, the Uruguayan collective Licuado, and Portugal's Godmess, Hazel, Kruella D'Enfer and LS. And once you are in the neighborhood, head down to the Parque das Nações where you can see the giant Iberian lynx created by the Portuguese artist Bordalo II, who is internationally renowned for his ability to transform waste into art. He also has other works spread across Lisboa, with a fox on a building on Avenida 24 de Julho, a bee at the LX Factory and a racoon on one of the walls of the Centro Cultural de Belém. The LX Factory is another art-filled location. This creative space should be a must-see for all those wanting to see a range of artistic creations and paintings. There is also street art to be found in the historic neighborhoods. On the Travessa das Merceeiras, in Alfama, where it is mandatory to examine the Portuguese mosaic paving, because that is where Vhils sculpted the face of the famous fado singer Amália Rodrigues. Graça is highly recommended for those who appreciate the works of Shepard Fairey, as the walls of two residential buildings are covered in paintings by this American artist, one of which is of a woman's face, in a collaboration with Vhils. Bairro Alto is another place not to be missed. Next to the Elevador da Glória there is an official street art gallery with panels exhibiting topical and temporary works. Inside what is Lisboa's most Bohemian neighborhood you will also find, for example, a piece by the Luxembourg artist Sumo Doubledevil and a painting by Portugal's own Regg Salgado. And close to one of the highest points of the city, at Amoreiras, you will find one of the oldest murals representative of this style in Lisboa, which is certainly worth visiting. Oh! And you can also note the "Panorâmico de Monsanto" on your map. Located in the Monsanto Parque Florestal, this building has been "invaded" by street art and is now home to many works by Vhils, Miguel Januário, RAM, Mar and many more. The art is there, explore on your own.

RIO TEJO TAGUS RIVER

The Tejo River is one of Lisboa's most striking features, thanks to the freshness and light it bestows on the city. You can feel the tight link between the city and the river as you travel along the waterfront. The perfect scenario for water activities and to enjoy a meal at the river front...

ARCO DA RUA AUGUSTA

Climb up one of Lisboa's iconic buildings for a unique view of the city. Open to the public since 9th August 2013, the Arch leaves Lisboa at your feet, literally.

THE INTERPRETATIVE CENTER OF THE HISTORY OF COD

This Portuguese thing about travelling to the end of the world to get their favorite everyday lunch is yet to be explained.

Countless generations of Portuguese people risked their lives in the world's most inhospitable seas just to fish for bacalhau.

Fish from distant Newfoundland and Greenland has long been part of the Portuguese cuisine but, it has above all, become an inherent part of popular culture.

Being one of the attractions of the riverside area of Lisboa, the Interpretative Center of the History of Bacalhau is already open at Terreiro do Paço.

This space pays homage to bacalhau (cod fish) as a symbol of our gastronomy, to generations of sailors and fishermen, to our culture and history. Throughout several exhibition rooms, visitors can watch the beginning of the odyssey of those who launched themselves in the 'seas of the end of the world', discover how the myth of the 'faithful friend' at the table was born, see the future of cod fish, the consumption, fishing and learn new ways of cooking it.

One can buy dry and fresh Cod from Iceland and Norway supplied by Luga and Terra do Bacalhau at the Grocery shop as well as canned cod, local olive oil, sea salt, spices, wines from the Region, thematic books and other merchandise.

As a curiosity, we are not yet able to explain how cod jumped from the icy waters of the North Sea directly into our popular culture as a simple handshaking.

ESTAÇÃO SUL E SUESTE

The old Station that for decades ensured fluvial access to Barreiro Train Station is being renovated. This building is an original design of Architect Cottinelli Telmo dated from 1929 and reopened on May 1, 2021.

With the rehabilitation of this noble space, the South and South East Station will be the central hub for the maritime-tourist activity of Lisboa.

The renovated Station will house:

- A quality tourist shop / office, as well as a cafeteria and a restaurant.
- The Tagus Center - a Tagus Promotion and Promotion Center of tourist offers / content / products linked to the river. Through technological and audiovisual equipment visitors will have an experience verifying that the Tagus River is an organic and dynamic system.
- A Kiosk with a terrace where visitors will be able to better contemplate this dialogue between the river and the City.

LISBOA STORY CENTRE

Lisboa Story Centre is an innovative space dedicated to the history of the Portuguese capital, inspired by the wide array of facts and events that have shaped the city. Located in the East Wing of the Terreiro do Paço, it has been designed as an interactive Visitor's Attraction, featuring state-of-the-art technology.

Like a well-illustrated book, the Lisboa Story Centre "transports" visitors on a fascinating journey through time. Using a mixture of elaborate sets, multimedia and sensory experiences, the Centre stages dramatic recreations of Lisboa's most important historical events, within the zone between the Baixa Pombalina and the Terreiro do Paço, exploring the myths and realities of this ancient city. The section focusing on November 1755, All Saints Day, addresses the earthquake and the city in ruins, passing on to the core vision of Pombal, who introduces Modern City Planning in the post-earthquake period and the Reconstruction of the City. The 1755 earthquake is shown in a sensory theatre experience that captivates all visitors.

ROYAL TREASURE MUSEUM / AJUDA NATIONAL PALACE

The already fabulous Ajuda National Palace will be even more majestic after the rehabilitation (already on the go) at the West Wing of the Palace.

The new contemporary wing will have the permanent exhibition of the Royal Treasure which includes the Crown Jewels and the Jewelry Treasures. The project will be finished by the 2nd semester of 2022.

SHOPPING IN LISBOA IS AN ORIGINAL WAY TO DISCOVER THE CITY

Whether you prefer large shopping centres, outlets with the best deals or more traditional shopping streets, there's plenty to choose from.

The Downtown is the traditional shopping area par excellence. Some shops are so old they have seen 3 centuries come and go. This is the place to find traditional gifts for all the family.

The trendy Avenida da Liberdade with luxurious and elegant shopping along beautiful cobbled pavement.

Príncipe Real is full of trendy designers and small innovative artisanal labels in open concept stores.

For those who are fans of flea markets Lisboa also offers a wide range of choices.

PILAR 7 BRIDGE EXPERIENCE

Located in Alcântara (Avenida da Índia), this interactive centre allows all visitors to have a unique experience of the bridge – considered one of the prettiest in the world– via a tour that takes in the exterior areas of this key pillar and the sensory experience of visiting its interior.

Enjoy a trip through the history of its construction that ends with an elevator ride up to a panoramic viewing point providing an unrivalled view of the city and the river.

Making use of modern multimedia devices, your visit ends with an immersive virtual reality experience of parts of the bridge that are inaccessible and a call at the Photo booth so you can record this unforgettable moment.

NIGHTLIFE

There is no shortage of suggestions for wonderful places to enjoy Lisboa nights, either under the light of the moon or under a roof. Rua Cor-de-Rosa (Pink Street), in Cais do Sodré, is one of the most sought-after nocturnal locations. There you will find bars and discos, all with appealing schedules and different vibes, ranging from reggae to African music, pop, indie and rock... although many people choose to stay on the street. That's right: it is not unusual to come across groups socialising in the open air, where they enjoy the cosmopolitan atmosphere and the comfortable temperatures Lisboa offers. This is a scenario repeated in the Bairro Alto, another popular spot in the capital's nightlife. The streets and alleys of this typical neighborhood are populated with dozens of restaurants and bars of various styles and catering to all tastes, where the merriment is constant. Nearby you will find the Bica, another popular Lisboa night spot of narrow alleys and stairways replete with small bars. For a more peaceful and original night out, there are other parts of the city, such as Graça, Intendente and Alfama, where there are alternative bars and exciting cultural associations. For those wanting to dance until morning, then all roads lead to the discos to be found at places like Alcântara (Docas), Santos and Cais do Sodré, as well as Santa Apolónia. And rooftop bars? There is no shortage – from the Avenida da Liberdade to the Bairro Alto and Martim Moniz – and from every one of them you can look out over the historical district, the river Tejo, 25 de Abril bridge, which make them wonderful places to be and from which to photograph Lisboa.

EUROPEAN GREEN CAPITAL 2020

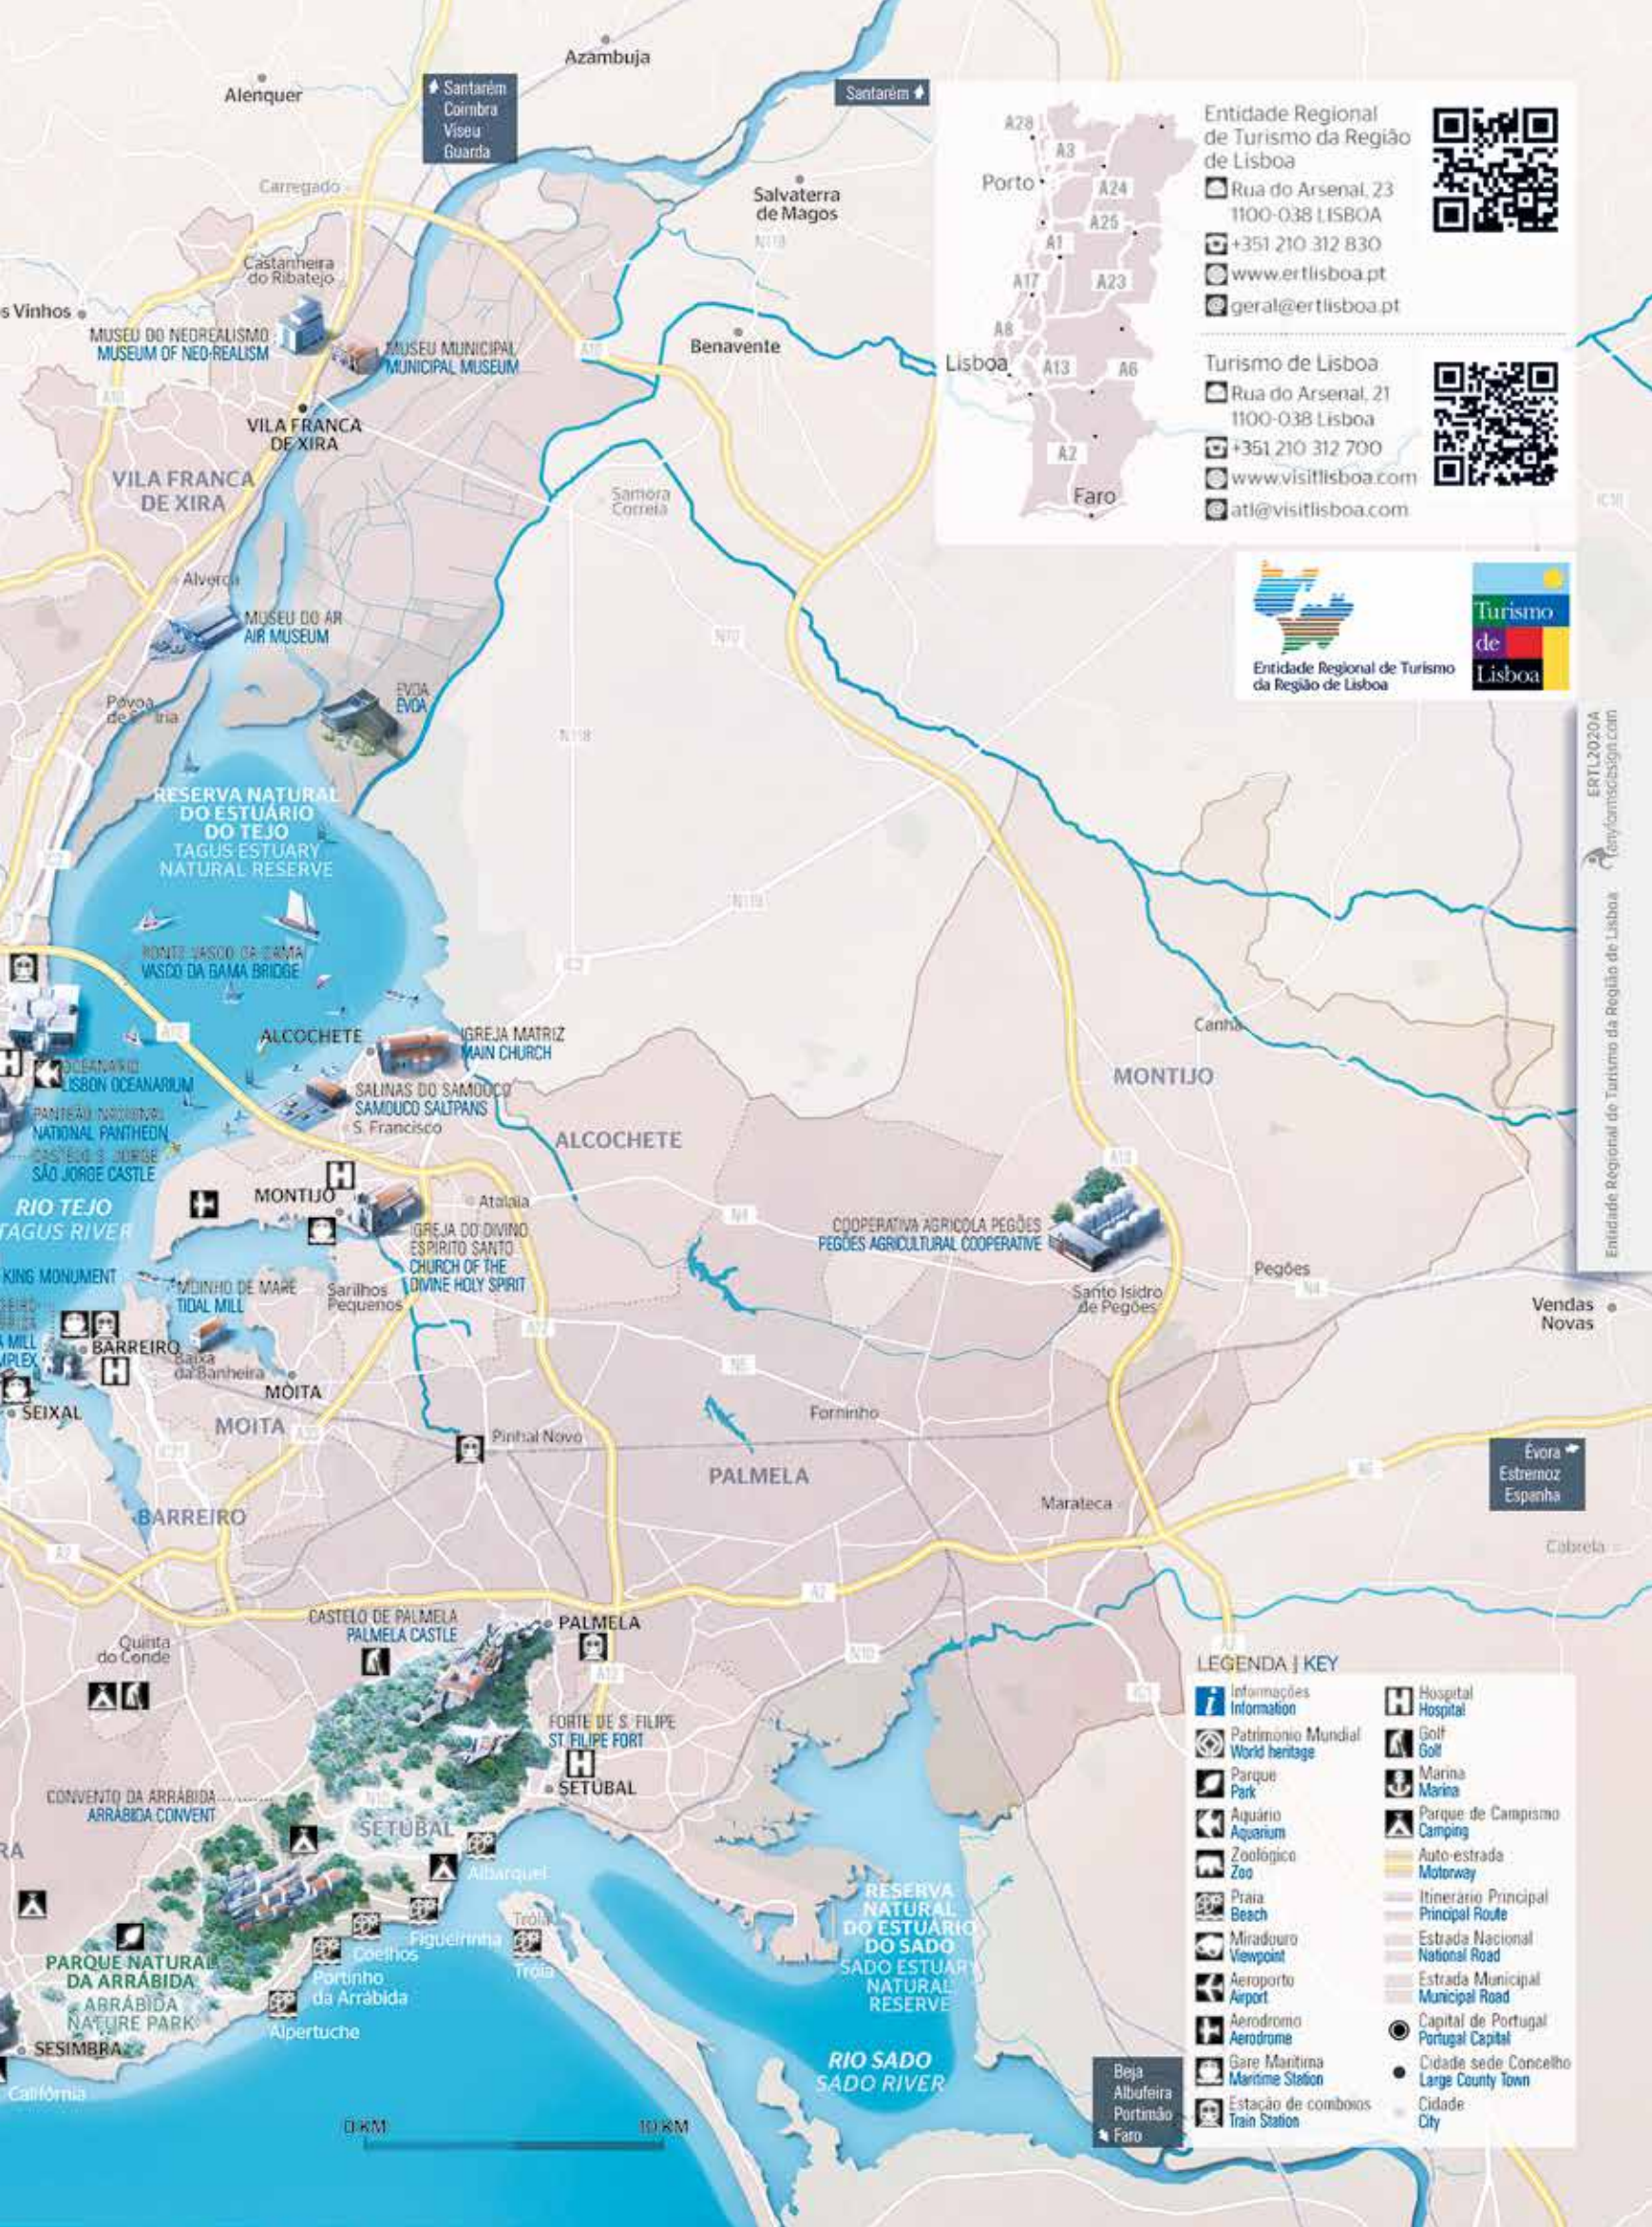

Lisboa was awarded as the European Green Capital in 2020. Lisboa has 900 hectares of diversified forest. Monsanto park is known as the lung of the city of Lisboa. There's also plenty of gardens, botanical and public parks. Lisboa will have 200 Kms of cycle lanes by 2021.

LISBOA IS A "RESORT CITY"

Thanks to the Atlantic coast and sandy beaches, the Ericeira World surfing reserve, Cascais/Sintra and Arrábida nature protected areas, along with the UNESCO's Cultural Landscape of Sintra and Heritage Sites as Mafra National Palace, Torre de Belém and Jerónimos Monastery combined with Fado music (Intangible Cultural Heritage of Humanity). MAFRA, ERICEIRA AND OEIRAS

Beyond the city of Lisboa

The town of Mafra is marked by the grandeur of the UNESCO World heritage site - Palácio Nacional de Mafra. Built during the reign of Dom João V this is the most important symbol of Baroque architecture in Portugal. Behind the Palace is a huge enclosed park, the Tapada Nacional de Mafra, where wild animals live in complete freedom- something not to be missed.

On the coast is Ericeira, a fishing town that has become a World Surfing Reserve, offering numerous beaches and excellent conditions for surfing. Find out more about this activity at the Ericeira World Surfing Reserve Interpretation Centre.

Oeiras, with its mild maritime climate and its beaches, offers opportunities for a wide variety of outdoor pursuits. But it also has a historical dimension: the Palace and Gardens of the Marquês de Pombal, well worth a visit, and the opportunity to taste one of the oldest wines in Portugal, Carcavelos.

ALMADA, AMADORA, LOURES AND ODIVELAS

The charms of another Lisboa

To the south, crossing 25 de Abril Bridge, we can find Almada, one of the surrounding areas most sought after by Lisboa's inhabitants. With its endless beaches, it is ideal for long summer days. A day over the river would not be complete without visiting the Cristo Rei which welcomes all visitors with open arms and offers a fantastic view of Lisboa. To the north, the neighboring towns of Odivelas and Loures are notable for their historical past and monuments. Closer to Lisboa is Amadora, famous for its International Comics Festival, a leading event in Europe, first held in 1989 and bringing together the best in this field.

CASCAIS, ESTORIL AND GUINCHO

The fascination of the sea

30 minutes from Lisboa, Cascais has a great deal to offer - beaches, nature, sports, culture and gastronomy. With its picturesque town centre, marina and powerful ocean, as can be witnessed at Boca do Inferno and Guincho beach, Cascais is ideal for water sports. Almost untouched nature is represented here by the Parque Natural Sintra-Cascais, which covers 1/3 of the total area of Cascais. The green landscape, the dunes and the view over the ocean are the perfect combination for some of the best golf courses in Portugal. Countless cultural activities, music, museums and other regular events define another facet of Cascais. In addition to its beaches, Estoril is a place of entertainment that owes much to its Casino. A meal of fresh fish, overlooking the sea, is always a special treat.

SINTRA

Capital of Romanticism

Classified by UNESCO as a Cultural Landscape on the World Heritage List since 1995, Sintra has inspired artists and poets throughout its history. A trip up to the Serra de Sintra will take you to Palácio da Pena, the finest example of Portuguese romantic architecture. In the wooded hills of the Serra de Sintra, you will find traces of a more remote past: the Castelo dos Mouros, telling the story of other eras. Enjoy a trip back in time, on foot or in a horse-drawn carriage, and discover lush gardens full of secrets and the magic charm of this mysterious town. Right in the centre of Sintra is the Palácio da Vila, frequently enveloped in the enigmatic mist characteristic of the area's microclimate.

Sintra is far more than just a tourist destination. It is an illustrated fairy tale with sublime landscapes, unique nooks and an experience that you won't find anywhere else in the world. A veritable work of art created by nature and people.

THE TAGUS ARCH,
ALCOCHETE,
VILA FRANCA DE XIRA,
MONTIJO, BARREIRO,
SEIXAL AND MOITA

The rural side
of Lisboa

The vast basin of the Tagus estuary is renowned for its culture and traditions associated with the river and horses. In the estuary, fishermen ply their trade and, on land, the tradition of bulls and horses remains strong. Open grassland offers ideal conditions for bulls and horses to freely pasture. This typical landscape reflects local people's pride in their traditions. The Tagus Estuary Nature Reserve, the largest wetlands in the country and one of the most important in Europe, is the habitat for countless fish, crustaceans and, above all, birds that stop here during their migration to the south. For this reason, this area is increasingly attractive to birdwatchers.

ARRÁBIDA,
SETÚBAL, PALMELA AND SESIMBRA

A perfect symbiosis
of nature and sea

To the south of Lisboa, and running down to Cabo Espichel (Cape Espichel), is Arrábida, a place where nature and sea blend and blur. Shades of green and blue dominate, producing the unique landscape that envelops the close-knit relationship between the sea, the beaches and Arrábida Mountain. In addition to a wealth of flora and fauna, the natural park around the mountain is also home to the Convento de Nossa Sra. da Arrábida (Convent of Our Lady of Arrábida) and its fort, both milestones on the best of the walking routes.

The Sado Estuary will impress you with the preservation of the natural surroundings and may even surprise you with a visit from dolphins, provided you are not completely sidetracked by the flamingos. When you get back to dry land, dip into the outstanding local cuisine, with its unparalleled delicacies and flavours.

In either Sesimbra or Setúbal, you will have no difficulty in finding somewhere super to eat. The area also has a Wine Route, which takes in the wines of Palmela and the Moscatel of Setúbal. Order a bottle, a plate of fresh fish or fried cuttlefish, and take your ease right by the sea.

It is filled with people walking and jogging. To the right of the promenade is a green park area with trees and a building. In the background, the 25 de Abril Bridge spans the river, and a lighthouse is visible on the distant shore. The sky is overcast.

The Centro Cultural de Belém, created by the architects Vittorio Gregotti and Manuel Salgado, was designed to function as an "open city", consisting of buildings, streets, plazas and bridges. Establishing a dialogue with the River Tagus and the monumental Praça do Império, and flanked by the Mosteiro dos Jeronimos and an area of extensive gardens, the centre is a celebration of culture, opening its intensive programme of activities to all kinds of cultural events. This cultural centre is regarded as a national and international landmark, having become a micro-city of contemporary monumentality. But it is also seen as the ideal venue, in Lisbon, for holding congresses, conferences and all types of institutional and corporate events. In fact, one of the three blocks from which it is formed, the Conference Centre, which forms the facade on the side of the Praça do Império, overlooking the Mosteiro dos Jeronimos and the River Tagus, was designed specifically for this purpose. In this catalogue, you will find an illustrated description of the two auditoriums and the 14 meeting rooms, as well as the restaurants, bars, terraces, plazas and gardens that can be made available for your use. We also present the CCB team, specialising in the organisation and management of events, who are also ready to plan, organise and produce all of your company's events.

The Eurostars Das Letras Hotel is one of the most rewarding and breakaway novelties that has happened in the last few years by the Tagus estuary. It is a luxury establishment where the secret ingredients of our recipe are blended in perfect proportions: design, top quality comfort, the latest in technological advances and, of course, literature and more literature. Each one of the 107 rooms of he Eurostars Das Letras is dedicated to a celebrated writer: our guests will find on their bed headrest a large frame with a fragment of a particular author in its original version –from Shakespeare to Calderón de la Barca, from Virgil to Saramago –the essence of universal literature from every era.

Just 30 minutes from Lisbon, Albatroz is coastal living at its glamorous best with a newly refurbished and fresh palette of blues, white and sand dressing the elegant, relaxed interiors. Notably modernised and in perfect harmony with the buildings’ 19th century heritage, guests continue to return time and again to this former palace and often strike up longstanding relationships with the owners and staff. The tan-limbed set head for the sun terrace with its 180-degree views of the sea. When thirst kicks in, there’s the sea-front bar serving fruity cocktails. The dining room is a Mediterranean-inspired affair dominated by fabulously fresh fish and seafood with a Portuguese twist. At the end of a day, comfort awaits in your room, all 45 and six suites have been thoughtfully decorated. And their views, well, let’s just say they’re full of watery wonder.

To enjoy the open air and sea mist, stroll around the gardens, with their centenary trees, which are the backdrop of the outdoor pool. Embark on a journey through history, marked by the rhythm of departures and arrivals, drawn in lines that extend to so many other points on the map. The Editory Riverside is the gateway to a wharf of experiences that get lost between the skyline seen through the window and the paths that converge in one place with so many languages and accents mixed. The Editory Riverside Hotel is located at the Stª Apolónia train station, one of the oldest train stations in the country and a transit point for millions of emigrants who in the sixties and seventies arrived and left for France or Germany in search of a life best. With all its legacy, this railway station, witness to great events in history and is an accomplice of affections and emotions that cannot be accommodated in suitcases. And that is how The Editory Riverside Hotel is presented. A refined atmosphere, sober without being austere, elegant in its lightness as a hostess for travelers, designed for citizens of the world.

In a former life, The Lumiares was a grand old palace commissioned by the powerful widow of one of the Counts of Lumiares. Sadly, over the years, the Palácio dos Condes Lumiares (as it was then known) fell into disrepair. By the time we acquired the historic building in 2013, there was little to show from this beautiful piece of history other than three sad façades of a crumbling building. Four years later, we have been able to offer the place a renaissance as The Lumiares, a 53-unit boutique hotel in the heart of the thriving, fashionable Bairro Alto area of Lisbon. And while we admire the style and taste of the ancient Countess of Lumiares, we have introduced all of the comforts of the 21st century. Please make yourself at home. Above all, enjoy your stay at The Lumiares and have a great time in Lisbon, the City of Light.

What appears to be the discrete and elegant façade of a seventeenth century grand house, surprises the guest with the matisse blue of the walls which greet you on entering and the stone staircase which takes you up to a terrace surrounded by exuberant greenery. The peace is absolute, ideal for reading a good book, having a pot of tea or a glass of wine, relaxing and dreaming in beautiful teak chairs and breathing the aromas of a different Lisbon. The interior of the old Carmelite convent surprises the guest once more... the access to the rooms creates new expectations, the illumination is perfect, and the identification of the rooms in metal gives a new look to the space. The rooms are decorated in pure, contemporary lines, timeless, recreating the elements of seventeenth century architecture.

Convento do Beato was built at the end of the 16th century and it was used as a monastery until the religious orders were banished in Portugal. Afterwards it had different uses such as Royal Military Hospital and later a mill.

Later in 1849, Queen D. Maria II granted the authorization for the use of the brand "Nacional" for the products made by the company, in recognition of the industrialist João de Brito. Recognized over the years for its magnificent construction, in 1984, Convento do Beato was classified by IPPAR (the Portuguese Institute for Architectural Heritage) as a Heritage Site of Public Interest, and it was used for holding a series of cultural nature events. Convento do Beato was considered in 2011 and 2014, by Publitur Portugal Trade Awards, the BEST VENUE IN PORTUGAL.

The National Palace of Sintra, located in the historic town centre, was inhabited for nearly eight centuries by the Portuguese monarchy and its court. It was much used, particularly during the middle ages, as a hunting retreat and as a refuge from outbreaks of disease in the capital, or as a summer resort, thanks to the town's more agreeable climate.

The Wines of Portugal Tasting Room in Lisbon, or Sala Ogival of Lisbon, is located in the west part of Praça do Comércio, also known as Terreiro do Paço, is one of the most emblematic European squares, named after the fact that there is situated the Paço Real. During two centuries (1511, in the reign with King Manuel I, 1755, with King José I) this was the place chosen to be the Royal Palace of Portugal. Rebuilt after the earthquake that devastated Lisbon in 1775, the square became known as Praça do Comércio. Nowadays, the elegant buildings that surround the Terreiro do Paço have a new dynamic that also houses government departments and ministries, with modern restaurants, shops, cafes and other services. The tasting room has a large space where the visitor can taste more than 1,000 wines from all regions of the country, with a small room for thematic tastings and a small library.
