Sonar Lisboa

8th, 9th and 10th April, in several places around the city. Tickets: one-day pass, 53,69 euros; two-day pass, 118 euros; three-day pass, 161,07 euros. More information at: sonarlisboa.pt

Sonar is a festival which combines creativity and technology with music. It began in Barcelona in 1994 and since then it has already been held in 36 countries. This year, it will take place in Portugal for the first time and will focus on three big aspects: electronic music and audiovisual experiences, digital art and also conversations about the future and sustainability. Sonar Lisboa also promises to disrupt the conventional model of the festival, presenting, besides the daytime program, Sonar by Day, a nighttime one, Sonar by Night. Thus, this three-day event offers several electronic music concerts and audiovisual experiences, digital art exhibitions, conversations about sustainability and initiatives connected to the community.

Italian Film Festival

The Italian Film Festival is back to the screens of Lisboa. This year's edition will honour author and director Pier Paolo Pasolini, in the context of the centenary of his birth. The festival will include a retrospective of his career, showing films directed by him, but also a series of almost 25 films, from short films to feature films, in which he collaborated or for which he was the source of inspiration. This year, the Italian Film Festival goes even further: with the restoration of some of the most emblematic cinematographic works by Pasolini, films like "Accattone", "Mamma Roma", "Edipo Re" or "Uccellacci and Uccellini" will be shown in some cinema theatres, in commercial distribution. Furthermore, it will be possible to see the show "Orgia" ("Orgy"), also by Pasolini.

4Spring Sound Fest

9th April, at 9 pm, Sala Tejo, Altice Arena, Parque das Nações (metro: Oriente). Tickets: from 35 to 50 euros.
More information at: arena.altice.pt

Lisboa welcomes spring with a new music festival. On stage will be musicians like Ivandro, Waze, Hugo Casaca and Dj Vuddu, joined by the headliner of this first edition, Matuê, the Brazilian rapper who has been becoming a phenomenon. "Quer Voar" and "M4", not to mention "Groupies" or "777-666", are songs which will certainly be a part of the show, as well as the liveliness and rhythm which characterize the artists' performances.

Espontâneo International Festival of Improv Theater

15th and 16th April, at 9:30 pm, Coliseu de Lisboa: Rua das Portas de Santo Antão, 96 (metro: Restauradores). Tickets: from 5 to 10 euros. More information at: coliseulisboa.com

Portugal, Spain, Italy, Mexico, Colombia and Brazil are the nationalities which will be represented in Espontâneo, the International Improvisational Theatre Festival, which, this year, hosts this genre's world championship for the first time. For two days, in front of a sovereign judge – the audience –, the best improvisers in the world will be competing for the world title and for the audience's laughter. In its already a decade of existence, this festival has been gaining notoriety with the international critics and has been responsible for bringing some of the most relevant names of this art to the Portuguese stage.

O Limpo e o Sujo

Vera Mantero

13th April, at 9 pm, Grande Auditório da Culturgest, Rua Arco do Cego (metro: Campo Pequeno).
Tickets: 14 euros. More information at: culturgest.pt

Starting from the words of writer Ana Cristina Leonardo "Life is not a clean thing. To acknowledge that would be half way to making it less dirty", the show "The Clean and the Dirty", by Vera Mantero, explores the sustainability of human presence on the planet. In fact, the theme is central to the whole choreography, which tries to demonstrate the need for us to change our way of living and our relationship with the environment. Through the performance, the artist promotes the questioning of subjectivity and the interaction with the outer world, connecting both concepts in a show, which, over the last few years, has been acclaimed by the critic.

City of Lisboa

Useful Information

Lisboa is the capital of Portugal and the country's biggest city, located on the estuary of the Tejo river, on the European Atlantic coast. It is continental Europe's westernmost capital. Portugal's official language is Portuguese. Derived from Latin roots, Portuguese is the third most spoken European language in the world, with around 200 million speakers. Around 3 million people live in the Lisboa region, with around 600 thousand living in the capital itself. The Portuguese Constitution allows religious freedom, with various religions being practised in Portugal.

Electric voltage: 230 / 400 volts, on a 50-hertz frequency. The electric sockets adhere to European standards. Blade plugs (US standard) must be used in conjunction with a 230 volts transformer, as well as an adaptor.

In Lisboa winters are mild and summers hot, though moderated by its location near the sea. During spring and autumn there are usually sunny days with mild temperatures.

Local currency and Payments

The Euro is Portugal's official currency, having been introduced in January 2002. 1 Euro is divided into 100 cents. There are coins of 1, 2, 5, 10, 20 and 50 cents and 1 and 2 Euros. The bills can be distinguished by their size and colour and have the following face values: 5, 10, 20, 50, 100, 200 and 500 Euros. In Portugal, payments can be made in cash, bank transfer, cheque, credit cards and debit cards.

For this purpose, you must present an identification document (passport or other official) to the seller, who will provide proof of the purchase registration. # Alice in Magical Garden

Until 17th April, Tuesday to Thursday, Sundays and holidays, from 6pm to 11pm (last entry at 10pm), Friday, Saturday and holiday eve, from 6pm to midnight (last entry at 11:30pm); Jardim Botânico Tropical, Largo dos Jerónimos (train: Cascais line, Belém station). Tickets: Monday to Thursday, 15 euros, general; Fridays and weekends, 17.5 euros, general. More information at: lisboa.magicalgarden.pt

Do you dare to enter Alice's world? That is the challenge which Magical Garden presents to all those who visit it. It is a magical journey through the most fun and thrilling random situations experienced by the character created by Lewis Carroll. It is a sensorial adventure inspired by "Alice in Wonderland" and "Alice Through the Looking Glass", which proposes an immersive one kilometre journey, in which the spectator is simultaneously a part of the story. The show has no beginning and no end, unfolding in a one-way route with 24 luminous experiences taken from both books: giant luminous sculptures, light design, sound environments, multimedia and interactive installations, such as an augmented reality application. The visitor may take his time in his favourite moments, because the visit has no other time limit besides the closing of the garden.

PATRIMÓNIO DA

The song of Lisboa and the World

Classified as Intangible Cultural Heritage of Humanity by UNESCO since November 2011, Fado is the purest expression of Lisboa's "soul". Much more than just a song, Fado is a musical manifestation of feeling Portuguese and a city's way of life, always accompanied by the solemn and melancholy chords of the Portuguese guitar.

Considered a brand inseparable from the culture and tradition of the Portuguese capital, Fado has been for at least two centuries, part of the city's heritage that endowed it with soul and voice. But since influences from overseas, and from various cultures which arrived in Lisboa can also be heard in Fado, Lisboa's song is now deservedly a shared heritage with the world. Inspired from a simple and sentimental language, Fado's universal character surpasses all barriers and is now enjoyed by millions of fans worldwide. This internationalization of Fado is greatly due to the charisma and the voice of Amália Rodrigues, the most renowned fado singer of all time, who from the 1950's took Lisboa's song to the most prestigious venues, from Russia to Japan. More recently, a new generation of singers of this genre has given the song a new vitality, placing it in the circuits of World Music. The ultimate international recognition of Fado comes with UNESCO's highest recognition, whose award of the Intangible Heritage of Humanity title makes this a perfect example of how a centuries-old tradition of a city becomes the identity symbol of a people. Therefore, whenever the lights are dimmed in a fado house and someone says "Silence, Fado is about to be sung", this is not just a ritual that is being performed. It is, as Amália Rodrigues would say, "a strange form of life" that is being renewed.

Fado Houses

Here visitors can experience the whole atmosphere and rituals associated with Lisboa's song and listen to this language of emotions. Set in the historic districts of the city such as Alfama, Bairro Alto, Lapa and Alcântara, there are diverse establishments which host regular performances of fado, with resident artists.

International Day of Monuments and Sites

Heritage and Climate

18th April, in several places around the city. More information at: patrimoniocultural.gov.pt

This year, "Heritage and Climate" is the underlying theme of the International Day of Monuments and Sites. A theme chosen bearing in mind the way climate emergency affects societies, raising awareness of the importance of protecting the cultural heritage from adverse climate impacts, such as global warming, ecosystem change, situations of extreme drought or rising water levels. At the same time, the aim is to look at the big causes of sustainability and circular economy from the point of view of the cultural heritage, proposing a reflection on the potential the cultural heritage has for the construction of an inclusive, transformative and fair climate action.

"Badiu" is Dino D'Santiago's new album. The presentation of his most recent work is also the motto for this concert under his own name. After "Kriola" and "Mundu Nobu", the artist sings the stories from his country of origin, Cape Verde, once again. This time, he focuses on the Badius (bummers), name which is given to the enslaved people who fled to the mountains during the pirate attacks to the city of Ribeira Grande. Based on the past and on community work, the artist connects electronic music, zouk and hip-hop to sing and give voice to the stories, anguishes and joys of the Creole nation.

The most charismatic vintage swing & rock'n'roll band of the Iberian Peninsula was formed in 1987 in Greater Lisboa. Its progress in music is characterized by new classical and intentionally old arrangements; an example would be "Tu Vuò Fà LAmericano", the song which became one of the band's ex-libris. More recently, it has been dedicated to new original songs, such as "Lisboa Sunset", considered to be a true painting sung about the light of the city.

In the decade of 1970, he became an unavoidable figure in European free jazz.

EXHIBITIONS

Wind shadows. Between waters

Until 8th May, from Wednesday to Sunday, from 10:00 to 18:00, Fundação Arpad Szenes - Vieira da Silva, Praça das Amoreiras (buses: 706, 709, 713, 758, 720, 727, 738, 774, 723 | metro: Rato). Tickets: 5 euros, general; 2,50 students and seniors; free entry on Sunday until 14:00.
More information at: fasvs.pt

The individual exhibition by the artist Carlos Nogueira gathers a series of works done throughout 2021. The objects gathered here, despite being daily utensils which bring to mind their original functions, are exhibited as being in a transition state between matter and art. "Sombras de vento. Entre águas" thus intends to activate an artistic dimension of the objects, in which, by means of lighting effects, they are seen as being in stand-by to become something different.

Restless Anxiety. Works from the Rui Victorino collection

Until 8th May, from Wednesday to Sunday from 10:00 to 18:00, Fundação Arpad Szenes - Vieira da Silva, Praça das Amoreiras (buses: 706, 709, 713, 758, 720, 727, 738, 774, 723 | metro: Rato). Tickets: 5 euros, general; 2,50 students and seniors; free entry on Sunday until 14:00.
More information at: fasvs.pt

In "Inquieta Ansiedade" we can find 60 works of modern and contemporary art, from the private collection of doctor and investigator Rui Victorino. With predominantly national artists, this exhibition intends to show some of the protagonists of modernism in Portugal. The exhibition tries to consider the concerns of the artists, who were able to capture and interpret the actuality of the aesthetic movements of the time. Works by authors like Paula Rego, Helena Almeida, Eduardo Nery, Noronha da Costa, Jorge Martins can be found in this exhibition, as well as works by international artists, such as Vasarely, Albers or Sónia Deaunay.

Breviário do Quotidiano #8

Until 8th May, from Wednesday to Sunday from 10:00 to 18:00, Fundação Arpad Szenes - Vieira da Silva, Praça das Amoreiras (buses: 706, 709, 713, 758, 720, 727, 738, 774, 723 | metro: Rato). Tickets: 5 euros, general, 2,50 students and seniors, free entry on Sunday until 14:00.

More information at: fasvs.pt

With the exhibition "Breviário do Quotidiano #8" the physical space of the Fundação Arpad Szenes - Vieira da Silva is transformed into an artistic space. The sculptures represented here, which are also mobile, make it possible to turn life into a performance during the exhibition. All because Ana Pérez-Quironga installed the "House" in the space of the museum. Focused on daily life, the artist centres her work around this theme and the significance of the common objects in constructing a self-representation. Thus, she opens doors and windows to different perceptions of spaces and objects.

Lx 14 mayo 1575

Until 15th May, from Wednesday to Sunday, from 10am to 6pm, last entry at 5:30pm; Museu do Dinheiro, Largo de São Julião (buses: 206, 210, 706, 728, 735, 774, 781, 782). Free entry. More information at: museudodinheiro.pt

Five centuries ago, more precisely on a May day in 1575, the view of Lisboa from the Tejo was quite different from the one we have today. At the time, Portugal was a commercial empire, pioneer in the opening of several sea routes and Lisboa had the Tejo as an entrance door, where every day ships arrived with merchandise from all the cities in the world. On a normal day, 14th May, Simão de Miranda, a Portuguese in the service of the duke of Turin, arrived on a ship and took the opportunity of his short visit to draw an impressive view of the city from the Tejo. It was because of archaeological evidences recovered from the old church of S. Julião, where this drawing was included, that several objects from that time were found. This exhibition reveals aspects from the daily life of the city of Lisboa by the end of the sixteenth century.

The Belém Palace

In the month when we celebrate democracy in Portugal – on 25th April 1974 a revolution put an end to a dictatorship which lasted for almost half a century – we travel through the History and the stories of one of the monuments which best represent it. We are talking about Palácio de Belém, the official residence of the President of the Portuguese republic.

There is a lot to see and discover in Belém and those who walk through this quarter in Lisboa certainly do not remain indifferent to its museums and monuments. Among all of them, this Palace may be a bit more unnoticed by those who are heading for Mosteiro dos Jerónimos, but a closer look will come across a long wall of a discrete pink, descending from Calçada da Ajuda until Praça Afonso de Albuquerque.

The walls guard the Palácio Nacional de Belém and several other buildings with sober lines and painted in the same shade, surrounded by 2,5 hectares.

The building has more than 500 years of history and has already served as a house of monarchs, like D. Maria II and D. Carlos I, and even as a cradle for Portugal's last king, D. Manuel II. From the First Republic on (1910), it has been the residence of the Chief of State. However, most of them have chosen to keep their own residences, reserving the palace only for the activities inherent to the exercise of their functions.

The Official Office is where the daily work of the President is done, but there are several other rooms which stand out. Passing the gate of honour, we arrive at Páteo dos Bichos (Animal Patio). The name is due not to the existence of animals, but to the fact that the palace was once the summer house of some monarchs, like D. João V and D. José I. And, as it was common, the European monarchies and the high nobility surrounded themselves by exotic animals. The intention of receiving different species in this same patio lead to the construction of cages; at the time, they were used to shelter lions, tigers, leopards, panthers or bears and some of them are still visible today. Still outside, it is possible to walk through different gardens. The biggest one, Jardim do Buxo, is next to the Official Office and the Protocol Rooms. In Jardim da Cascata, something stands out: an Italian 17th century sculpture, which gives notoriety to a space created to receive exotic birds in the reign of D. Maria I.

Inside, the palace unfolds into rooms and halls. One of the better known is Sala das Bicas (Spouts Room), which derives its name from the water pouring from the two existing stone lions. The black and white marble, the tiles and the roman emperors' busts frame this room, where we can also find the Book of Honour signed by all the chiefs of State who visit Portugal. In this room's ceiling, the biggest painted canvas in the whole monument stands out: by Vitorino Manuel da Serra, the painting from the 18th century represents Flora, goddess of spring and flowers.

The Dining Room, which is still used today, is where the last official monarchy dinner took place, on 3rd October 1910. On the walls we can find an artistic work by an unknown author, which represents the five senses. The Empire Room, on the other hand, owes its name to the furniture from the time of French emperor Napoleon. It is used by all the people who are waiting for an audience, but, in the past, it used to be a billiard room; it even had the name of the first monarch to inhabit the palace, D. João V, and there used to be a bust of the king in the room.

The Museum of the Presidency is open to the public every day. In this wing of the Palace it is possible to learn more about the national symbols and the constitutional powers of the President. We can also visit the Official Portrait Gallery, where we can find the 18 paintings representing all the figures who have held office, as well as artistic and historic objects.

Besides the Gallery, the visitors also have the opportunity to get to know the collection of gifts offered to the Presidents in diplomatic visits all around the world. Traditionally, in these visits it is usual for the heads of State to exchange gifts which represent certain cultural or historical aspects of their countries. Get to know a bit more about the history of Portuguese democracy. Find out for yourself.

EXHIBITIONS

The Miracle of Laughter. Saint Anthony by Bordalo

Until 22nd May, from Tuesday to Sunday, from 10am to 6 pm, last entry at 5:30 pm, Museu de Lisboa, (metro: Terreiro do Paço, Baixa-Chiado | buses: 714, 732, 736, 737, 760).
Tickets: 3 euros. More information at: museudelisboa.pt

Rafael Bordalo Pinheiro is the é caricaturist responsible for the creation, in 1875, of the character "zé povinho", which symbolizes the simple people, the everyman. What this exhibition will show is that this character appears at the time of the creation of the drawing "P'rá céra de Sant'Antó", published, on 12th June 1875, in A Lanterna Mágica, his first satirical newspaper. This drawing was the beginning of a long relationship between the artist and the saint. Thus, the exhibition "O Milagre do Riso" is organized in three core areas: "7.º Centenário de Santo António" (7th Centenary of Saint Anthony), "Os Santo Antónios da política" (The Saint Anthonys of politics) and "As Festas de Lisboa" (The Lisboa Festivities), in which the saint from Lisboa is presented by Rafael Bordalo Pinheiro's humorous eye in graphic works and ceramic pieces.

"O Sistema" is an individual exhibition by the artist Cristiano Mangovo. Considered to be one of the most creative painters of the Angolan post-war generation, he presents a selection of original paintings about socio-political issues. Hierarchies, conflicts of interest, divided, deep rooted and widespread mentalities, power, its conquest and maintenance are the patent themes in this exhibition, which reveal Mangovo's exuberant style, almost defined as "figurative expressionism", with bold colours and contrasts and distorted body representations.
