City of Lisboa

Useful Information

Lisboa is the capital of Portugal and the country's biggest city, located on the estuary of the Tejo river, on the European Atlantic coast. It is continental Europe's westernmost capital.

Portugal's official language is Portuguese. Derived from Latin roots, Portuguese is the third most spoken European language in the world, with around 200 million speakers.

Around 3 million people live in the Lisboa region, with around 600 thousand living in the capital itself. The Portuguese Constitution allows religious freedom, with various religions being practised in Portugal.

Electric voltage: 230 / 400 volts, on a 50-hertz frequency. The electric sockets adhere to European standards. Blade plugs (US standard) must be used in conjunction with a 230 volts transformer, as well as an adaptor.

In Lisboa winters are mild and summers hot, though moderated by its location near the sea.

During spring and autumn there are usually sunny days with mild temperatures.

Local currency and Payments

The Euro is Portugal's official currency, having been introduced in January 2002. 1 Euro is divided into 100 cents. There are coins of 1, 2, 5, 10, 20 and 50 cents and 1 and 2 Euros. The bills can be distinguished by their size and colour and have the following face values: 5, 10, 20, 50, 100, 200 and 500 Euros. In Portugal, payments can be made in cash, bank transfer, cheque, credit cards and debit cards.

Fado

INTANGIBLE HERITAGE OF HUMANITY

PATRIMÓNIO DA
HUMANIDADE

HUMANITY

The song of Lisboa and the World

Classified as Intangible Cultural Heritage of Humanity by UNESCO since November 2011, Fado is the purest expression of Lisboa's "soul". Much more than just a song, Fado is a musical manifestation of feeling Portuguese and a city's way of life, always accompanied by the solemn and melancholy chords of the Portuguese guitar.

Considered a brand inseparable from the culture and tradition of the Portuguese capital, Fado has been for at least two centuries, part of the city's heritage that endowed it with soul and voice. But since influences from overseas, and from various cultures which arrived in Lisboa can also be heard in Fado, Lisboa's song is now deservedly a shared heritage with the world. Inspired from a simple and sentimental language, Fado's universal character surpasses all barriers and is now enjoyed by millions of fans worldwide. This internationalization of Fado is greatly due to the charisma and the voice of Amália Rodrigues, the most renowned fado singer of all time, who from the 1950's took Lisboa's song to the most prestigious venues, from Russia to Japan. More recently, a new generation of singers of this genre has given the song a new vitality, placing it in the circuits of World Music. The ultimate international recognition of Fado comes with UNESCO's highest recognition, whose award of the Intangible Heritage of Humanity title makes this a perfect example of how a centuries-old tradition of a city becomes the identity symbol of a people. Therefore, whenever the lights are dimmed in a fado house and someone says "Silence, Fado is about to be sung", this is not just a ritual that is being performed. It is, as Amália Rodrigues would say, "a strange form of life" that is being renewed.

Fado Houses

Here visitors can experience the whole atmosphere and rituals associated with Lisboa's song and listen to this language of emotions. Set in the historic districts of the city such as Alfama, Bairro Alto, Lapa and Alcântara, there are diverse establishments which host regular performances of fado, with resident artists.

Terra - Lisboa Architecture Triennale 2022

Until 5th December, in several cultural venues in Lisboa.
Tickets: depending on the activity. More information at:
trienaldelisboa.com

Every three years, the Architecture Triennale fills Lisboa with a forum of debate and cultural promotion around a big topic. This year, 'Earth' is the central concept which resulted in four exhibitions, four books, three awards, three days of conferences and a selection of independent projects, which are now being presented. The proposal is to rethink the future, to move towards a new model, which brings a greater balance between communities, resources and processes. Some of the exhibitions are 'Retroactivar' ('Retroactive'), at MAAT, and 'Visionárias' ('Visionairies'), at Culturgest. The first makes visitors reflect on urban space, on how cities are the populations' present and future and, at the same time, are degraded or marginalized spaces. The latter focuses on visions from people in architecture, in arts, in design or in science.

Misty Fest

Until 6th December, Museu do Oriente, Av. Brasília (buses: 712, 713, 714, 720, 727, 728, 732, 738, 742, 751, 756, 760 | trams: 15E, 18E | train: Cascais line, station: Alcântara-Mar); Centro Cultural de Belém, Praça do Império (tram: 15 | buses: 714, 727, 728, 729, 751). Tickets: from 15 to 50 euros. More information at: misty-fest.com

Strongly characterized by diversity, artistic and acoustic quality, Misty Fest enters its 13th edition with contemporary award-winning creators. Besides the range of attending artists, such as Rita Vian, Christian Löffler and Detected Ensemble, Joep Beving, Lisa Gerrard and Jules Maxwell, Edu Lobo, Tigran Hamasyan, Joana Serrat and Roger Eno, this edition also includes the Misty Sessions, at Espaço Espelho d' Água. Thus, the festival tries to continue to bring the best music to the best venues, warming up the motors in this intimate way: in a privileged space, which has a room for exhibitions, with the Tejo river for company and concerts specially prepared for these sessions.

Frida Kahlo, the immersive biography

Until 31st December, from Tuesday to Sunday, between 5 pm and 8 pm, Reservatório da Mãe D'Água das Amoreiras, Praça das Amoreiras (metro: Rato | buses: 202, 758, 774, 713 | tram: 24). Tickets: 15 euros, general.

More information at: portugalagenda.com

Frida Kahlo, the immersive biography is more than an exhibition; it is the combination of physical and digital environments which become an immersive and emotional journey through the life of one of the most influential artists of all time. In this 360° multimedia show, there are virtual reality experiences and video mapping in sculptures and holographic animations. The showing is divided in two moments. First, the visitors have the opportunity to go through different artistic installations, among which we can find historical photographs and original films. The second moment is characterized by the 360° audio-visual projection about Frida Kahlo's personal life.

L-E-V Chapter 3: The Brutal Journey of the Heart

4th November, at 9 pm, 5th November, at 7 pm, Grande Auditório, Centro Cultural de Belém, Praça do Império
(tram: 15 | buses: 714, 727, 728, 729, 751). Tickets: from 21 to 35 euros. More information at: ccb.pt

The acclaimed Israeli dance company founded by Sharon Eyal together with Gai Behar makes its debut in Lisboa to present the last show of the 'Love Cycle' trilogy, 'The Brutal Journey of the Heart'. In this performance, the nine dancers go on an intense journey through the ups and downs of love and relationships. Accompanied by the rhythm of the live soundtrack by Ori Lichtig's, the pulsating and explosive movements of the bodies use ballet references throughout the choreographies. The costumes evoke tattoos along the bodies, emphasizing the dance's sensuality.

Sleeping Beauty

27th November, at 5 pm, Coliseu de Lisboa, Rua das Portas de Santo Antão, 96 (metro: Restauradores). Tickets: from 20 to 38 euros. More information at: coliseulisboa.com

The enchanted world of castles, princesses, forests and fairies goes on stage at the Coliseu de Lisboa once again, presented by the Classic Stage company, directed by Evgeniya Bespalova. The ballet, which is divided in prologue and two acts, is characterized by romanticism and lyricism and puts the dancers' - above all the main character's - performance to the test. The highlights of this performance also include the scenographic elements, the manufactured props and the music of this classical ballet, which shows elegance and academic style.

Ôss

26th November, at 7 pm, 27th November, at 5 pm, Auditório Emílio Rui Vilar, Culturgest, Rua Arco do Cego (metro: Campo Pequeno). Tickets: 14 euros. More information at: culturgest.pt

'Ôss' is both the word for 'bone' in Creole and a karate expression referring to ideas such as to press, to push or to support. In this performance, created by company Dançando com a diferença - which has been attracting attention for its dissemination of the concept of inclusive dance - and by choreographer Marlene Monteiro - who is known for her creations of poetry and mythological inspiration -, the concept of bone is explored as a keeper of ancient secrets and as a structuring box for soft and fragile parts. In 'Ôss' to build a strong skeleton may be a synonym for a foot serving as the heart or the knees playing the part of the liver, since the difference between hard and soft is of little importance.

In a romantic but fun environment, André Rieu's concerts are known for the way they make the audience dance and clap to different rhythms, ranging from waltzes to folk, including well-known songs. The party atmosphere is enhanced with balloons, soloists and the maestro's humour.

6th November, at 7 pm, Coliseu de Lisboa, Rua das Portas de Santo Antão, 96 (metro: Restauradores). Tickets: from 20 to 50 euros. More information at: coliseulisboa.com

Company Materlírica presents the opera 'La Traviata', a tragic romance told in three acts, based on Alexandre Duma's 'Lady of the Camellias'. It is a story of love, matches and mismatches between Violet, a tuberculous Parisian courtesan, and Alfredo, a young bourgeois from a provincial family, who falls in love with her. In love, they decide to live together. But Alfredo's father finds Violet and asks her to stay away from his son, since their relationship is damaging the reputation of the whole family. Giving in to this request, the Parisian leaves Alfredo. Shattered and unaware of the truth, he mistreats her. Later, already very ill, Violet is visited by Alfredo, who, upon learning of her sacrifice, asks for her forgiveness and swears never to leave her again. But it is too late.

The choir composed of some of the best artists in South Africa invites the audience to enjoy African gospel music, through the presentation of the album 'Freedom'. The vibrant costumes, the voices and inspiring songs will stand out in the performance. The band will share both traditional and contemporary music, performing in six of the eleven official languages. Besides the hymns, the choir will also present the iconic performances of 'Amazing Grace', 'Hallelujah' and 'Freedom Songs Medley'.

Lisboa smells like roasted chestnuts

With the arrival of autumn and cooler weather, the streets of Lisboa are perfumed with a very particular aroma. In the Portuguese gastronomy calendar, November is traditionally the roasted chestnut month. It is by this time that, a bit everywhere, we can see the chestnut roasters with their special carts, in which they keep and roast the fruit of the season.

In several streets of Lisboa, from Baixa to Santa Apolónia, the vendors shout a phrase which is well-known to everyone, 'hot and good'. This way, they announce to those who are near that a new batch is coming out, attracting passers-by, both through the smell and through the hot smoke.

Sold by half a dozen or by a dozen, the roasted chestnuts bring a cosy feeling to cold hands and to the stomach, both as a starter or dessert, or just as a snack between meals. Or even as a company on a walk to explore the city.

The tradition to sell roasted chestnuts in small mobile carts has been known to the people of Lisboa for many decades. Initially, the vendors would place them in metallic roasters on the burning coal and serve them wrapped in newspaper pages. Today, the used utensils are all made of stainless steel and the chestnuts already have their own small packages, with room for the shells, or are handed over in white paper sheets.

In addition to this custom, we can find others around this time of the year, after the harvest. One example are some alcoholic beverages such as piquette, jero-piga or new wine.

The popular Magusto festivity celebrates St. Martin's Day, on 11th November. Legend has it that on a cold rainy day, St. Martin cut his cloak in half to share it with a beggar, which resulted in a bright sun coming out. This day is celebrated in several European countries.

In Lisboa, the icons of the festivities are the carts and the roasters who spread the warm and cosy smell of chestnuts through the streets. At the table, some serve them boiled with a touch of fennel or roasted in the oven. These are also usually served with piquette or jeropiga. Piquette is a low-alcohol drink which results from adding water and aguardente to grape pomace. Jeropiga, on the other hand, is prepared with aguardente and grape must, which stops fermentation and results in a beverage with a higher alcohol content than wine. Both were born from popular and rudimentary production recipes, leaving room for improvisation and making it hard to try two which taste exactly the same.

Walk around Lisboa and be sure to try one of autumn's most typical flavours. Find out for yourself.

This showing brings together for the first time a selection of works and prototypes, which range from drawings, to photographs, large-scale installations and objects. The Museu de Lisboa presents a retrospective of last century's 20s in the exhibition 'The Roaring '20s in Lisboa'. Even today, the decade of 1920 is still remembered as a period of transformation in customs and mentalities. Lisboa was not excluded from this movement: modernity, social and individual affirmation were also experienced in the Portuguese capital. In spite of the political and economic instability of the time, Lisboa followed some trends, spreading the novelties and extravagances which arrived through the press, literature, radio and cinema. Thus, this exhibition transports us to that same time period through personal stories and experiences.
