1st, 2nd, 3rd September, from 4 pm, Parque da Bela Vista, Av. Almirante Gago Coutinho (buses: 32B, 208, 755, 794).

Tickets: from 61 euros. More information at: meokorama.pt

The month of September brings a new music, art and sustainability festival, MEO Kalorama. The stage is set up in one of the city's biggest urban parks, Parque da Bela Vista (beautiful view), where the festival gets the inspiration for its name – 'kalorama', which means 'beautiful view' in Greek. The announced national and international artists are expected to provide three days of much excitement. This last summer festival in Europe will present a different headliner for each of the three days, namely The Chemical Brothers, Arctic Monkeys and Disclosure. These artists will be joined by names such as Jessie Ware, Róisín Murphy, Kraftwerk, James Blake, Chet Faker, Bonobo, Ornatos Violeta, Rodrigo Leão Cinema Project, Peaches, among others. Sustainability, innovation, inclusion and music are brought together in a festival which will try to use greener energies, promote local commerce and reuse and recycle resources.

FESTIVALS

Festival TODOS

From 1st to 11th September, Campo das Amoreiras (buses: 40B, 703, 717, 798). Tickets: general, 3 euros. More information at: www.festivaltodos.com

TODOS is back to the Santa Clara parish with a series of shows, exhibitions, tours, visits, experiences and workshops, live and via digital means, which, more than events, are pretexts for socialization, discovery and relationship. Part of the programme of this 14th edition takes place at Campo das Amoreiras, where one of the events we will find is the show 'Encontra-te Comigo no Carrossel'. Palácio da Quinta Alegre will also host some events, like the community theatre show 'Os Cabeças Bicudas'; the ruins of Cine-Estreia will show films from the 'A Céu Aberto' project; and Escola Básica Maria da Luz de Deus Ramos will host, among others, the play 'As Mãos das Águias'.

Operafest

Until 10th September, at 9 pm, Jardim do Museu Nacional de Arte Antiga, Rua das Janelas Verdes; (buses: 713, 714, 727, 728, 732, 760 | trams: 15, 18, 25). Tickets: from 15 to 50 euros. More information at: operafestlisboa.com

The opera invading Lisboa in August extends until September with a schedule promising much adrenaline. Under the motto 'Destino em vertigem' ('Destiny in Vertigo'), it humorously presents the return to fantasy and to the masks to bring the opera to distinct audiences. The schedule of the festival, directed by soprano Catarina Molder, thus proposes an opera for the younger audience, the story of the fish boy, 'Jeremy Fisher', by French composer Isabelle Aboulker, and another for the older audience, 'O Homem dos Sonhos' ('The Man of Dreams'), by Chagas Rosa, which reflects on the human condition and the line separating madness from sanity. Included in the schedule are Maratona Ópera XXI, the only national contemporary opera contest, singing lessons for amateurs and workshops for show business professionals who want to learn more about the opera. And, finally, as we have come to expect, the festival ends with the operatic rave 'Masked Ball to defy destiny', with dance, opera, pop music and masks.

Festival de Bem-Estar

9th, 10th and 11th September, Parque de Jogos 1.º de Maio – Fundação INATEL, Av. Rio de Janeiro (metro: Roma | buses: 717, 735, 744, 749 and 767). Tickets: 7,50 euros.
More information at: www.feiraalternativa.pt

After a two year gap due to the pandemic, the Festival Bem-Estar is back to the capital with about 200 exhibitors. Reiki, acupuncture, reflexology, crystal therapy, feng shui, massages, sound therapy, chromo therapy, flower therapy, quantum table and numerology are some of the complementary therapies which will be present at the event. The remaining areas of natural cosmetics, nutrition, healthy eating, handicraft and esotericism will also be represented. In a weekend designed to be enjoyed by the whole family, three moments stand out: the celebration of 100 years of Reiki, by the Portuguese Reiki Association; a mega yoga class, by the Portuguese Yoga Federation; and an 'Eye Gazing' session, a tantric exercise which increases intimacy, by The Love School.

Gargalhadas na Lua International clown and comedy exhibition

From 5th to 11th September, Casa do Coreto, Rua Neves da Costa, 45 (metro: Carnide | buses: 726, 768). Free entry.
More information at: luacheia.pt

Casa do Coreto will once again be invaded by clowns to welcome the sixth edition of the Clown and Comedy exhibition – Gargalhadas na Lua. Two national and four international companies will go on stage. Under the topic 'the clown and the contemporary objects' theatre', the audience will see performances with distinct approaches. 'Arteiro', by Brazilian actor and director Roberto Rodrigues, 'Everybody Loves Roberto', by the French company Tyefada, or the show 'Kokolores', by Marimbondo, are some of the foreseen performances. Furthermore, there will be room for a workshop entitled 'Find your Funny', directed by North-American professor Hilary Chaplain. The festival ends with 'Cabaré Gargalhadas' ('Cabaret Laughter'), where all the artists who participated create a show with short comic moments.

MOTELX

Lisboa International Horror Film Festival

From 6th to 12th September, Cinema São Jorge, Av. da Liberdade (metro: Avenida | buses: 709, 711, 732, 736).

Tickets: general, 4,5 euros. More information at: www.motelx.org

In this 16th edition, MOTELX goes on a geographic and time travel through the best horror cinematography – with a big highlight on national production – and its crossing with other artistic expressions. The Lisboa International Horror Film Festival takes place at Cinema São Jorge, but this year it spreads to other venues in the city, such as: Teatro São Luiz, Convento São Pedro de Alcântara and Museu de Lisboa – Palácio Pimenta. 'Final Cut', by French director Michel Hazanavicius; and 'Dark Glasses', the most recent giallo by horror master Dario Argento, are two of the most awaited premieres. Another highlight is the presentation of the book 'MOTELX's Lost Room – The Films of Portuguese Horror (1911-2006)', an unprecedented archive about the unknown Portuguese horror cinematography.

City of Lisboa

Useful Information

Lisboa is the capital of Portugal and the country's biggest city, located on the estuary of the Tejo river, on the European Atlantic coast. It is continental Europe's westernmost capital.

Portugal's official language is Portuguese. Derived from Latin roots, Portuguese is the third most spoken European language in the world, with around 200 million speakers.

Around 3 million people live in the Lisboa region, with around 600 thousand living in the capital itself. The Portuguese Constitution allows religious freedom, with various religions being practised in Portugal.

Electric voltage: 230 / 400 volts, on a 50-hertz frequency. The electric sockets adhere to European standards. Blade plugs (US standard) must be used in conjunction with a 230 volts transformer, as well as an adaptor.

In Lisboa winters are mild and summers hot, though moderated by its location near the sea. During spring and autumn there are usually sunny days with mild temperatures.

Local currency and Payments

The Euro is Portugal's official currency, having been introduced in January 2002. 1 Euro is divided into 100 cents. There are coins of 1, 2, 5, 10, 20 and 50 cents and 1 and 2 Euros. The bills can be distinguished by their size and colour and have the following face values: 5, 10, 20, 50, 100, 200 and 500 Euros. In Portugal, payments can be made in cash, bank transfer, cheque, credit cards and debit cards.

Fado

INTANGIBLE HERITAGE OF HUMANITY

PATRIMÓNIO DA

The song of Lisboa and the World

Classified as Intangible Cultural Heritage of Humanity by UNESCO since November 2011, Fado is the purest expression of Lisboa's "soul". Much more than just a song, Fado is a musical manifestation of feeling Portuguese and a city's way of life, always accompanied by the solemn and melancholy chords of the Portuguese guitar.

Considered a brand inseparable from the culture and tradition of the Portuguese capital, Fado has been for at least two centuries, part of the city's heritage that endowed it with soul and voice. But since influences from overseas, and from various cultures which arrived in Lisboa can also be heard in Fado, Lisboa's song is now deservedly a shared heritage with the world. Inspired from a simple and sentimental language, Fado's universal character surpasses all barriers and is now enjoyed by millions of fans worldwide. This internationalization of Fado is greatly due to the charisma and the voice of Amália Rodrigues, the most renowned fado singer of all time, who from the 1950's took Lisboa's song to the most prestigious venues, from Russia to Japan. More recently, a new generation of singers of this genre has given the song a new vitality, placing it in the circuits of World Music. The ultimate international recognition of Fado comes with UNESCO's highest recognition, whose award of the Intangible Heritage of Humanity title makes this a perfect example of how a centuries-old tradition of a city becomes the identity symbol of a people. Therefore, whenever the lights are dimmed in a fado house and someone says "Silence, Fado is about to be sung", this is not just a ritual that is being performed. It is, as Amália Rodrigues would say, "a strange form of life" that is being renewed.

Fado Houses

Here visitors can experience the whole atmosphere and rituals associated with Lisboa's song and listen to this language of emotions. Set in the historic districts of the city such as Alfama, Bairro Alto, Lapa and Alcântara, there are diverse establishments which host regular performances of fado, with resident artists.

It is possible to sit in a garden, under a tree, and let yourself be embraced by the style of a music playing or get involved in the story from a book in a mobile library. Over the month, the city invites residents and visitors to get involved in the several cultural activities happening outdoors. One of this culture festival's biggest highlights is the classical music concert with Orquestra Gulbenkian, in Vale do Silêncio.

Terra Lisboa Architecture Triennale 2022

From 29th September, in several cultural spaces in Lisboa. Tickets: depending on the activity. More information at: trienaldelisboa.com

Every three years, the Architecture Triennale fills Lisboa with a forum of debate and cultural promotion around a big topic. This year, 'Earth' is the central concept which resulted in four exhibitions, four books, three awards, three days of conferences and a selection of independent projects, which are now being presented. The proposal is to rethink the future, to move towards a new model, which brings a greater balance between communities, resources and processes. In the beginning of the festival, it is possible to visit the exhibition 'Retroactive', at MAAT, and the exhibition 'Visionaries', at Culturgest. The first makes visitors reflect on urban space, on how cities are the populations' present and future and, at the same time, are degraded or marginalized spaces. The latter focuses on visions from people in architecture, in arts or in science.

Lisboa: on rails for 150 years

Known as the city of the seven hills, Lisboa has much to see and discover. The best way to do it is on foot or by public transportation. For those who are visiting or to make moving around easier for those who live in it, the capital offers several means of transportation from other times but which were perpetuated until today, having become true ex-libris. We are talking about the trams and funiculars which bring hundreds of people to all the corners of Lisboa every day.

The Companhia dos Carris de Ferro de Lisboa, today known as Carris (rails), was founded 150 years ago and at the time (1872) aimed to implement a transportation system with animal-drawn carriages which moved on rails. In 1873, the first "American" line was inaugurated. "American" was the name given to this means for transportation which already existed in the United States.

With the arrival of the 20th century, animal traction was replaced by an electrical system. The first track was built between Santa Apolónia and Santos and in the following years other lines were developed. Nowadays, this network covers 31 kilometres every day, passing through residential areas and landmarks. Some examples are the 12E line, which goes around Saint George's Castle and stops at several viewpoints, such as the ones at Portas do Sol or Santa Luzia. It takes passengers from Mouraria to Alfama, going past the Lisbon Cathedral and ending its journey at Martim Moniz. The 15E, the oldest and nowadays the most modern line, makes its route along the riverside. It goes past Praça do Comércio, Santos, passes in front of the Jerónimos Monastery and takes the passengers until the Aquarium Vasco da Gama. The 18E tram transports passengers from Cais do Sodré until Alto da Ajuda, going past the Royal Treasure Museum at Palácio da Ajuda. The 24E, which track was reopened in 2018, starts its journey at Bairro Alto, goes past Príncipe Real and Amoreiras and ends at Campolide. The 25E, on the other hand, starts at Praça da Figueira, at Rossio, goes past the Estrela Basilica and finishes its route at Campo de Ourique. But the tram is not the only way to move around Lisboa. It was also at the end of the 19th century that the first of the three funiculars which are still helping people run up the hills of Lisboa was created. The Lavra funicular, which runs up the Sant'Ana hill, has been working since 1884 and transports passengers from Largo da Anunciada to Jardim do Torel. It covers 188 metres with a 22% slope. The Glória funicular was inaugurated one year later and connects Praça dos Restauradores to the São Pedro de Alcântara viewpoint. It covers the 265 metres of the steep street which gives it its name. Finally, in 1892, the funicular connecting Rua de São Paulo to Largo do Calhariz was created to reach the Santa Catarina hill. The Santa Justa lift, which is a tourist attraction, connects Rua do Ouro to Largo do Carmo and should be considered along with the funiculars. Its wooden cabins go up and down a 45 metre high metallic tower designed by Raoul Mesnier du Ponsard, a Portuguese engineer of French origin. Like the funiculars, the lift has been considered a national monument and its top provides one of the most beautiful panoramic views of Lisboa.

Among streets and cobblestone pavements, hill tops and bottoms, there is much to see and the best you can do is discover by yourself.

EXHIBITIONS

A curious house guest

Until 11th September, from Tuesday to Sunday, from 10 am to 6 pm, Fundação Arpad Szenes-Vieira da Silva, Praça das Amoreiras, 56 (metro: Rato | buses: 706, 709, 713, 758, 720, 727, 738, 774, 723). Tickets: general, 5 euros. More information at: fasvs.pt

To celebrate the 125 years of the artist's Maria Helena Vieira da Silva birth, the artist Robert Wiley prepared the exhibition "Um hóspede curioso". Starting from an internal dialogue and from the relationship he establishes with the physical space and the historical record of Vieira da Silva's production, Robert Wiley created artistic objects. He used different materials which were at the Atelier-House and in the garden, including glass. Although the showing was thought specifically for this occasion, the images which accompany the artistic production allow the visitors to have an idea of the objects, systems and situations which Wiley is currently exploring.

The exhibition "Jogos Cruzados. Viagens entre Oriente e Ocidente" intends to help people understand how games became a mirror of World History, as well as to be a reflection of the relations established between Europe and Asia since the 1500s. Starting from one of the world's biggest private board games collections, this showing reveals a little bit about the Asian production for the European market, which took place from the 16th century until the middle of the 19th century, as well as the presence of western games in the east.

João de Almeida Santos is a writer, professor, artist and author of the exhibition Luz na Montanha. In this showing, he presents 34 works where he searches for the synesthesia between poetry and painting. The artist presents a series of art works which reveal the dialogue between the two art forms, but where each one keeps its autonomy in terms of language and narrative. João de Almeida Santos illustrates his poems starting from an image captured in a photograph and uses the technique of digital painting on cotton paper, with warm colours on a black background.

Quite the contrary: in a positive and conscious tone, this exhibition, which is mainly dedicated to the younger ones, explores the different ways to use water. In 30 modules and four big themes, the visitors will be able to experiment present and future activities with and without access to this essential asset, in order to draw everyone's attention to the importance of saving and using it efficiently.

EXHIBITIONS

Mare Ossos Tellus

Until 2nd October, from Tuesday to Sunday, from 10 am to 1 pm and from 2 pm to 6 pm, last entry at 5:30 pm, Museu Nacional do Azulejo, Rua da Madre de Deus, 4 (buses: 28, 718, 742, 794, 759). Tickets: 5 euros. More information at: museudoazulejo.gov.pt

As the name lets us guess, the ceramic pieces in this showing are made of bones. Teresa Segurado Pavao, the artist and author of the 25 pieces displayed at the High Choir of the old Madre de Deus Convent, presents works in pure white clay and with transparent glass details which integrate bones gathered in the field and on the beach and attached to some pieces with silver elements. The connection of the materials results in objects wrapped in great spirituality, entering a context of perfect harmony with the baroque space they are set in.

Self-portraits and other matters

Until 23rd October, from Tuesday to Sunday, from 10 am to 1 pm and from 2 pm to 6 pm, Centro Cultural de Cascais, Av. Rei Humberto II de Itália, 16 (train: Cascais and bus M27). Tickets: 5 euros. More information at: fundacaodomluis.pt

Centro Cultural de Cascais, more exactly the Chapel space, receives a series of 25 drawings from the exhibition 'Autorretratos e outros assuntos', by the young artist Ricardo Marcelino. Using techniques from oil and charcoal painting, both on canvas and on paper, the paintings presented here capture moments from the artist's childhood, as well as idealizations of reality and landscape organizations. Between self-portraits, portraits and landscapes of Cascais, Ricardo Marcelino proposes, as he himself puts it, to translate the objective character of a distinct and perfectly distorted world with the intention of showing the potentiality of the poetic act, the creative act.

In 2022, we celebrate 20 years since the euro started to circulate. Banks, ATMs, retailers and the public in general were stocked, but on the first day of the year, in 2002, Portugal witnessed a huge turnout to exchange bills and coins, which created long lines a bit all over the country. There was a whole preparation process prior to the moment of the currency exchange. The production of euro bills started in July 1999 in 15 factories throughout Europe. One of them was the Portuguese VALORA. In this exhibition you can find out more about the euro, which is the world's second most used currency.

Delfim Manuel, a Portuguese ceramist with several recognitions and national awards, dedicates an exhibition to the saint from the city of Lisboa. In the month where Saint Anthony is celebrated, the artist exhibits 13 pieces which were exclusively created for this showing. The craftsman stands out for the way in which he handles the clay and the expertise and gentleness he puts into the pieces he creates. Every year he creates a new image dedicated to the saint, which he produces in small numbered series. And in the exhibition "Do altar para a rua", besides the new pieces, it is possible to see more than 20 others which were created since 1996.

Miguel Telles da Gama, author of the exhibition 'Debaixo da Pele', shows the visitors that, although (almost) everything has already been invented, there are still stories to be told. Thus, he presents a new work, full of fragments from his earlier works. The artist wants to convey the message that there is still much to be said. Starting from the images, the words and the colours, each work randomly brings together fragments of stories which never come to an end, among graphics and pictures or even film images; in these works, fragments are sometimes covered by words or by colour smudges which transform them or give them new meaning.

The Museu de Lisboa presents a retrospective of last century's 20s in the exhibition "Os Loucos anos 20 em Lisboa". Even today, the decade of 1920 is still remembered as a period of transformation in customs and mentalities. Lisboa was not excluded from this movement: modernity, social and individual affirmation were also experienced in the Portuguese capital. In spite of the political and economic instability of the time, Lisboa followed some trends, spreading the novelties and extravagances which arrived through the press, literature, radio and cinema. Thus, this exhibition transports us to that same time period through personal stories and experiences.

With works which do not present hypothesis or conclusions, the public is invited to enjoy the textures and the complexity of the compositions, as well as to discover enigmatic and sophisticated images.

Until 5th September, from Wednesday to Monday, from 11 am to 7 pm, MAAT – Museu de Arte, Arquitetura e Tecnologia, Av. Brasil, Belém station | buses: 728, 714, 727, 729, 751 | tram: 15). Tickets: general, 5 euros; students and seniors, 3 euros. More information at: maat.pt

Vhils, artistic name of Alexandre Farto, performs several works of public art a bit all over the world. Prisma, contrary to his usual works, is an exhibition which resorts exclusively to video and which represents the daily life in nine metropolises: Mexico City, Cincinnati, Hong Kong, Lisboa, Los Angeles, Macau, Paris, Beijing and Shanghai. This is a large-scale installation which provides and immersive experience into a reality of trivial environments and in which the identity of their inhabitants is lost by being manipulated and distorted with space, scale and lighting effects. However, the essence of the spaces can be recovered through critical distancing, in an exercise of contemplation, introspection and reflection.
