Popular Marches

12th June, from 9:45 pm, Avenida da Liberdade (metro: Avenida).

Free entry. More information at: culturaranua.pt

The Lisboa festivities come alive again with the resumption of one of the most emblematic activities: the popular marches. The city's typical neighbourhoods are able to show their marches again in a competition for the best and most original one. Each neighbourhood builds its scenery, costumes and performances based on its traditions and with the purpose of showcasing its best features. After the parade, prizes are awarded to the best choreography, scenography, best lyrics and best parade. Suspended since 2020 due to the pandemic, the theme is the one foreseen for that year and which continues to make perfect sense for Lisboa: the birth centenary of fado singer Amália Rodrigues.

EVENTS

Saint Anthony's Weddings

12th June, at 11:30 am, Sé de Lisboa, Largo da Sé
(buses: 10B, 737 | tram: 28). Free entry. More information at: casadesantoantonio.cm-lisboa.pt

The Saint Anthony's weddings are a tradition which, this year, celebrates its 25th anniversary as an event. But its history is older and was born in 1958 with the initiative of the old newspaper Diário Popular, which intended to materialize the idea that Saint Anthony, the most charismatic of the Lisbon saints, was a matchmaker. The aim to help couples with bigger financial difficulties was always cherished by the people of Lisboa. Interrupted in 1974, the weddings were resumed by the City Hall with the same intention of fulfilling the dream of many brides and grooms, who, for different reasons, were not yet able to go through with the wedding. More recently, the ceremony was included in the Lisboa festivities.

Popular Festivities

Until 30th June, in the different neighborhoods of the city.
More information at: culturaranua.pt

Throughout the whole month of June, there is a party atmosphere in Lisboa. The smell of basil and grilled sardines invites everyone living in or passing through the city to join the tables and the grills in the streets and the courtyards of the typical neighbourhoods. From Alcântara to Santa Maria Maior, not forgetting Benfica or Olivais, the typical season snacks join the interaction, Portuguese music and the colours of the ornaments bringing joy to the streets.

John Cleese

Last time to see me before I die

3rd, 6th, 7th and 8th June, at 8 pm, Coliseu de Lisboa, Rua das Portas de Santo Antão, 96 (metro: Restauradores).

Tickets: from 5 to 10 euros. More information at: coliseulisboa.com

One of the most iconic British comedians comes to Portugal for a special show which considers the possibility of this being his last show in the country – "Last time to see me before I die". Now, John Cleese, the comedian of the 60s, 70s and 80s generations, author and protagonist of the show "Fawlty Towers" and with a part in the film "A Fish Called Wanda", goes on stage at the Coliseu de Lisboa for the first time, for a show which is to "laugh and cry for more".

Mysterious Egypt

Until 25th September, from Thursday to Sunday, at 3 pm, 5 pm and 7 pm, Reservatório Mãe d'Água das Amoreiras, Praça das Amoreiras (metro: Rato | buses: 202, 758, 774, 713 | tram: 24). Tickets: from 12 to 15 euros.
More information at: lisboa.immersivus.com

Prepared to travel through one of the most enigmatic cultures in the History of Mankind? Mysterious Egypt is the most recent immersive show produced by OCUBO. Drawing, light and laser are the ingredients of this audiovisual expedition which has stops in original contents throughout the history of Egyptian civilization. The centenary discovery of pharaoh Tutankhamun's treasure, the inscription on the Rosetta Stone, the reign of Ramses II, as well as the enigma of the pyramid construction in Giza are some of this journey's most symbolic moments and elements.

City of Lisboa

Useful Information

Lisboa is the capital of Portugal and the country's biggest city, located on the estuary of the Tejo river, on the European Atlantic coast. It is continental Europe's westernmost capital.

Portugal's official language is Portuguese. Derived from Latin roots, Portuguese is the third most spoken European language in the world, with around 200 million speakers.

Around 3 million people live in the Lisboa region, with around 600 thousand living in the capital itself. The Portuguese Constitution allows religious freedom, with various religions being practised in Portugal.

Electric voltage: 230 / 400 volts, on a 50-hertz frequency. The electric sockets adhere to European standards. Blade plugs (US standard) must be used in conjunction with a 230 volts transformer, as well as an adaptor.

In Lisboa winters are mild and summers hot, though moderated by its location near the sea. During spring and autumn there are usually sunny days with mild temperatures.

Local currency and Payments

The Euro is Portugal's official currency, having been introduced in January 2002. 1 Euro is divided into 100 cents. There are coins of 1, 2, 5, 10, 20 and 50 cents and 1 and 2 Euros. The bills can be distinguished by their size and colour and have the following face values: 5, 10, 20, 50, 100, 200 and 500 Euros. In Portugal, payments can be made in cash, bank transfer, cheque, credit cards and debit cards.

(tram: 15 | buses: 714, 727, 728, 729, 751). Tickets: 15 euros. More information at: ccb.pt

Produced for the Swedish company Cullberg, the work is usually performed by two dancers of this company and by choreographer and performer Marco da Silva Ferreira. Jefta van Dinther, also a choreographer and dancer, will present a solo interpretation of the version by Marco da Silva Ferreira. A show which is tied to the symbolism and spirituality of a mountain, to the relationship it establishes with a body and a voice, in a performance which questions the nature-culture relationship, what it means to exist and to take care of the planet.

Fado

INTANGIBLE HERITAGE OF HUMANITY

PATRIMÓNIO DA
HUMANIDADE
HERITAGE OF HUMANITY

The song of Lisboa and the World

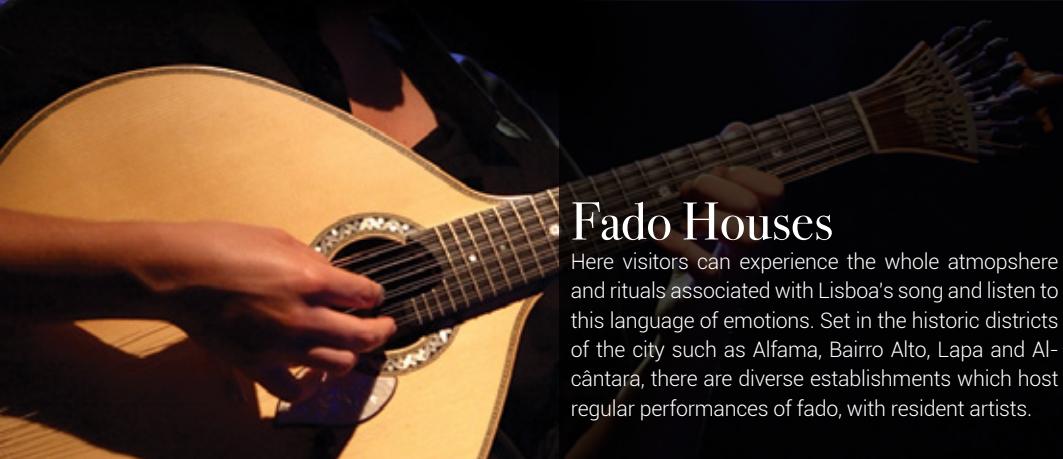

Classified as Intangible Cultural Heritage of Humanity by UNESCO since November 2011, Fado is the purest expression of Lisboa's "soul". Much more than just a song, Fado is a musical manifestation of feeling Portuguese and a city's way of life, always accompanied by the solemn and melancholy chords of the Portuguese guitar.

Considered a brand inseparable from the culture and tradition of the Portuguese capital, Fado has been for at least two centuries, part of the city's heritage that endowed it with soul and voice. But since influences from overseas, and from various cultures which arrived in Lisboa can also be heard in Fado, Lisboa's song is now deservedly a shared heritage with the world. Inspired from a simple and sentimental language, Fado's universal character surpasses all barriers and is now enjoyed by millions of fans worldwide. This internationalization of Fado is greatly due to the charisma and the voice of Amália Rodrigues, the most renowned fado singer of all time, who from the 1950's took Lisboa's song to the most prestigious venues, from Russia to Japan. More recently, a new generation of singers of this genre has given the song a new vitality, placing it in the circuits of World Music. The ultimate international recognition of Fado comes with UNESCO's highest recognition, whose award of the Intangible Heritage of Humanity title makes this a perfect example of how a centuries-old tradition of a city becomes the identity symbol of a people. Therefore, whenever the lights are dimmed in a fado house and someone says "Silence, Fado is about to be sung", this is not just a ritual that is being performed. It is, as Amália Rodrigues would say, "a strange form of life" that is being renewed.

Fado Houses

Here visitors can experience the whole atmosphere and rituals associated with Lisboa's song and listen to this language of emotions. Set in the historic districts of the city such as Alfama, Bairro Alto, Lapa and Alcântara, there are diverse establishments which host regular performances of fado, with resident artists.

The royal treasure chest is open

Lisboa opens its doors to a hidden and long-awaited treasure. Thus, from 1st June, in the west wing of Palácio da Ajuda, you can visit the Royal Treasure Museum, where a collection of rare and valuable jewels, insignia and decorations, coins and civil and religious jewellery pieces will be on display, for the first time at their own and permanent address.

The collection of the Royal Treasure Museum is installed in one of the world's biggest vaults, fitted with sophisticated security and video surveillance equipments, 5-ton armoured doors and showcases with temperature and humidity control as well as bulletproof glass.

Open every day from 10 am to 7 pm, the Royal Treasure Museum keeps a collection of high-value objects, related to symbolisms, ceremonies and rituals.

© Caixa de Tabaco_PNA_ManuelSilveiraRamos_DGPC_ADF

Among jewels, coins, medals, civil and religious jewellery pieces, some more emblematic objects stand out. Among them, the emerald bow which belonged to the sister of D. Maria I, D. Mariana. This adornment started as a big bow for the corset front. Composed of 216 diamonds and 31 Colombian emeralds cut in the baroque style of the first half of the 18th century, it was, at the request of D. Maria Pia, transformed into several pieces, such as necklace, earrings, brooch, bracelet and comb. As the gold and silver frame remained intact, it was possible to reconstruct it.

The sabre of D. Miguel, one of the most controversial Portuguese kings, is also exhibited in this museum. Responsible for the movement known in history as Vila-Francada, which ended with the dissolution of the liberalist courts and the restoration of an absolutist power, he had a weapon manufactured to immortalize his moment of glory. According to the inscriptions on both sides of the blade, the sabre was manufactured at the Royal Factory of Toledo, in 1824. In the sword hilt there is an eagle taming a serpent, which, in a free interpretation, could represent absolutism overpowering liberalism.

The Germain tableware is another set of unavoidable pieces in this exhibition. Commissioned by king D. José I to the goldsmith François-Thomas Germain in 1756, right after the Lisboa earthquake (in 1755) which destroyed a big part of the royal treasure, the tableware was supposed to restore the splendour of the Portuguese court. Made with molten silver, the rococo-style tableware is a true work of art in its details. Destined for French service royal banquets, it became the first tableware of the crown and today it is the only set of its kind in the whole world.

There are many gems to be seen in this museum composed by eleven exhibition sections, on three floors. Here we can find more than a thousand pieces, some of them from private collections of king D. Fernando II and his son, D. Luís I.

In a setting which elevates the expression of wealth and the decorative arts of the Portuguese monarchic period, the Royal Treasure Museum is Lisboa's new jewel. Discover for yourself.

EXHIBITIONS

Traverser la Nuit

Until 29th August, from Wednesday to Monday, from 10 am to 7pm, MAAT – Museu de Arte, Arquitetura e Tecnologia, Av. Brasília (train: Cascais line, Belém station | buses: 728, 714, 727, 729, 751 | tram: 15). Tickets: general, 5 euros; students and seniors, 3 euros. More information at: maat.pt

"Traverser la Nuit" revela um amplo panorama da coleção pessoal de Antoine de Galbert, um artista que prima pela ligação entre a arte contemporânea, as artes populares e a arte bruta. O tema da noite inspira-se no local e na história do espaço expositivo: a Central Tejo. Construído no início do século XX para fornecer eletricidade a Lisboa e arredores, o edifício é um verdadeiro testemunho da transformação do início do século, que alterou por completo a relação que o ser humano tem com a noite. Nesta exposição, os visitantes podem atravessar o período noturno, do crepúsculo até ao amanhecer, passando por diversas etapas.

Interferences Emerging Urban Cultures

Lisboa is characterized, among several factors, by its cultural diversity. And the exhibition "Interferências" intends to affirm exactly that characteristic. MAAT is thus transformed into a stage of stories, which give visibility and create a dialogue between works from contemporary artists, who use the streets as an expression context, and works from private, more institutional collections. In a showing which presents pieces from the Centro de Arte Moderna Gulbenkian collection as well as from the Archives of RTP and also from several artists, such as Filipa Bossuet, Petra Preta, ±maismenos±, Onun Trigueiros, the museum privileges the different narrative itineraries, becoming a space for criticism and, at the same time, a meeting place for several communities.

Prisma Vhils

Until 5th September, from Wednesday to Monday, from 10 am to 7 pm, MAAT – Museu de Arte, Arquitetura e Tecnologia, Av. Brasília (train: Cascais line, Belém station | buses: 728, 714, 727, 729, 751 | tram: 15). Tickets: general, 5 euros; students and seniors, 3 euros. More information at: maat.pt

Vhils, artistic name of Alexandre Farto, performs several works of public art a bit all over the world. Prisma, contrary to his usual works, is an exhibition which resorts exclusively to video and which represents the daily life in nine metropolises: Mexico City, Cincinnati, Hong Kong, Lisboa, Los Angeles, Macau, Paris, Beijing and Shanghai. This is a large-scale installation which provides and immersive experience into a reality of trivial environments and in which the identity of their inhabitants is lost by being manipulated and distorted with space, scale and lighting effects. However, the essence of the spaces can be recovered through critical distancing, in an exercise of contemplation, introspection and reflection.

In 30 modules and four big themes, the visitors will be able to experiment present and future activities with and without access to this essential asset, in order to draw everyone's attention to the importance of saving and using it efficiently.

EXHIBITIONS

The Roaring '20s in Lisboa

Until 11th December, from Tuesday to Sunday, from 10 am to 6 pm, last entry at 5:30 pm, Palácio Pimenta, Museu de Lisboa, Campo Grande (metro: Campo Grande | buses: 701, 717, 735, 736, 738, 747, 750, 755, 767, 778, 783, 796, 798). Tickets: 3 euros. More information at: museodelisboa.pt

The Museu de Lisboa presents a retrospective of last century's 20s in the exhibition "The Roaring '20s in Lisboa". Even today, the decade of 1920 is still remembered as a period of transformation in customs and mentalities. Lisboa was not excluded from this movement: modernity, social and individual affirmation were also experienced in the Portuguese capital. In spite of the political and economic instability of the time, Lisboa followed some trends, spreading the novelties and extravagances which arrived through the press, literature, radio and cinema. Thus, this exhibition transports us to that same time period through personal stories and experiences.

The expression goes "Whoever drinks from Lilau's water will never forget Macau" and this exhibition is as much a visit to the collection of the artist Nuno Barreto as a journey through the images he took, both from the people and from the places of the Macanese territory. Between acrylics, gouaches, drawing books, drafts, notes, magazines, books, catalogues and photographs, the oriental city has left such a mark in the artist, that he even claims "it entered his blood never to leave it again".
