FESTIVAL INTERNACIONAL DE CINEMA DE TERROR DE LISBOA | 15.<sup>a</sup> EDIÇÃO

MOTELX

7th to 13th September, Cinema São Jorge, Av. da Liberdade, 175 (metro: Avenida).Tickets: general, 4,5 euros. More information at: motelx.org

MOTELX is returning to São Jorge. After the 2020 programme focusing on racism, this year the inspiration is provided by the #metoo movement, and an attempt to end the stereotype of male representation in horror films. This entails a selection of feminist films, including "Black Medusa" by Ismaël and Youssef Chebbi and "Violation" by Madeleine Sims-Fewer and Dusty Mancinell, which set the scene for a special programme titled "Killer Fury - Women Serial Killers". This brings together a number of female serial killer films, including "The Countess" (2009) a biopic of Erzsébet Bathory directed by Julie Delpy, and "Monster" (2004), Charlize Theron's film about the most famous female murderer in the United States, among many others. Keeping with the idea of the stereotype as this edition's main theme, there is space for the section "The Portuguese Heart of Darkness: The (Unfinished) Overseas Trilogy" in which the attempt by the duo Tino Navarro and Joaquim Leitão is revisited.

Jardins Abertos

4th, 5th, 11th and 12th September, in various gardens across Lisboa.
Free entry. More information at: jardinsabertos.com

Lisboa's parks and gardens will open their doors for the free Open Gardens festival. Promoted by professionals in botany, sustainability and cultivation, this event seeks to increase public awareness of the need to preserve green spaces while also teaching people about nature and the urban environment. Launched to great acclaim in 2017, the following editions saw the event expand with more gardens and parks getting involved and more activities organised. This time around, the festival is reopening the gates to the city's parks over two consecutive weekends, complete with activities for all the family.

Operafest Lisboa

Until 11th September, Museu Nacional de Arte Antiga, Rua das Janelas Verdes; (buses: 713, 714, 727, 728, 732, 760; trams: 15, 18, 25). Tickets: from 7.50 euros.

More information at: operafestlisboa.com

The city's opera festival is back for its second edition and to awaken everyone's passion for this form of artistic expression. Led by the soprano Catarina Molder, and produced by the Ópera do Castelo in partnership with the Museu Nacional de Arte Antiga, it has a programme that is both traditional and avant-garde. In the museum garden you can watch the staged opera gala, "Soul on Fire", in which heroes and anti-heroes meet, some to lament their misfortunes, and others to rejoice at the misfortunes of others. A competition for new arias is also planned, with selected composers being invited to create an aria from a text of their choice, with the work being performed and assessed by a jury. The festival ends with an "Operatic Rave" that combines pop, cabaret, disco and opera.

City of Lisboa

Useful Information

Lisboa is the capital of Portugal and the country's biggest city, located on the estuary of the Tejo river, on the European Atlantic coast. It is continental Europe's westernmost capital. Portugal's official language is Portuguese. Derived from Latin roots, Portuguese is the third most spoken European language in the world, with around 200 million speakers. Around 3 million people live in the Lisboa region, with around 600 thousand living in the capital itself. The Portuguese Constitution allows religious freedom, with various religions being practised in Portugal.

Electric voltage: 230 / 400 volts, on a 50-hertz frequency. The electric sockets adhere to European standards. Blade plugs (US standard) must be used in conjunction with a 230 volts transformer, as well as an adaptor.

In Lisboa winters are mild and summers hot, though moderated by its location near the sea. During spring and autumn there are usually sunny days with mild temperatures.

Local currency and Payments

The bills can be distinguished by their size and colour and have the following face values: 5, 10, 20, 50, 100, 200 and 500 Euros. PATRIMÓNIO DA
HERITAGE OF HUMANITY

The song of Lisboa and the World

Classified as Intangible Cultural Heritage of Humanity by UNESCO since November 2011, Fado is the purest expression of Lisboa's "soul". Much more than just a song, Fado is a musical manifestation of feeling Portuguese and a city's way of life, always accompanied by the solemn and melancholy chords of the Portuguese guitar.

Considered a brand inseparable from the culture and tradition of the Portuguese capital, Fado has been for at least two centuries, part of the city's heritage that endowed it with soul and voice. But since influences from overseas, and from various cultures which arrived in Lisboa can also be heard in Fado, Lisboa's song is now deservedly a shared heritage with the world. Inspired from a simple and sentimental language, Fado's universal character surpasses all barriers and is now enjoyed by millions of fans worldwide. This internationalization of Fado is greatly due to the charisma and the voice of Amália Rodrigues, the most renowned fado singer of all time, who from the 1950's took Lisboa's song to the most prestigious venues, from Russia to Japan. More recently, a new generation of singers of this genre has given the song a new vitality, placing it in the circuits of World Music. The ultimate international recognition of Fado comes with UNESCO's highest recognition, whose award of the Intangible Heritage of Humanity title makes this a perfect example of how a centuries-old tradition of a city becomes the identity symbol of a people. Therefore, whenever the lights are dimmed in a fado house and someone says "Silence, Fado is about to be sung", this is not just a ritual that is being performed. It is, as Amália Rodrigues would say, "a strange form of life" that is being renewed.

Fado Houses

Here visitors can experience the whole atmosphere and rituals associated with Lisboa's song and listen to this language of emotions. Set in the historic districts of the city such as Alfama, Bairro Alto, Lapa and Alcântara, there are diverse establishments which host regular performances of fado, with resident artists.

CONCERTS

Há Fado No Cais Contos de cordas

17th September, at 7pm, Centro Cultural de Belém, Praça do Império (tram: 15 | buses: 714, 727, 728, 729, 751).
Tickets: from 12.50 euros. More information at: ccb.pt

Erudite and traditional Portuguese music inspired Luis Coelho to compose original music born of the harmony of sounds from the classical guitar, the Portuguese guitar, the double bass and the harp. Chord Stories is the first album of this creation, with Salomé Pais Matos on the harp and Carlos Menezes on the double bass. For the musician, the guitar's chords have the charm of the storyteller, and he has created a narrative using these instruments, to which he has added a note of fado guitar and accordion.

Ópera Iolanta

29th September, at 8pm, Teatro Nacional São Carlos, Rua Serpa Pinto (metro: Baixa-Chiado | tram: 28E). Tickets: from 15 euros. More information at: tnsc.pt

P. I. Tchaikovsky's Iolanta returns to the São Carlos stage after 15 years in concert version. It is an adaptation of the Danish play, King René's Daughter, which tells the tale of Iolanta, a blind princess whose father, the King, adapts her world so she can never discover she is blind. The princess was promised to Robert, who loved another. In the meantime, the Count of Vaudémont falls in love with Iolanta and tells her the truth. On discovering this, the king sentences him to death; however, through the shock of hearing this news, the princess's eyesight is restored. The show is led by the conductor Graeme Jenkins, with Zarina Aboeva in the title role.

Festival Santa Casa Alfama

24th and 25th September, various locations in Alfama. Tickets: before 23rd September: daily ticket 25 euros, two-day pass 35 euros. On the day of the festival: daily ticket 30 euros, two-day pass 40 euros. More information at: santacasaalfama.com

---

The Alfama is once again opening its doors to the festival that celebrates this most typical of Lisboa's neighbourhoods. For two days, more than 40 artists will perform on a number of stages placed throughout the neighbourhood. With last year marking the centenary of the birth of Amália Rodrigues, this year is dedicated to yet another of Lisboa's fado greats - Carlos do Carmo. There will be a tribute concert performed by singers who are true heirs to Carlos do Carmo's immense fado legacy. This ninth edition of the festival will also pay tribute to Portuguese culture, and will be assisted in this by some of fado's biggest names and emerging talents. Camané, Sara Correia, Paulo de Carvalho and Tozé Brito are just some of the artists who will be there.

Festival Nossa Lisboa

10th and 11th September, at 7pm, Altice Arena, Rossio dos Olivais (metro: Oriente).

Tickets: day ticket 25 euros; two-day pass 30 euros. More information at: festivalnossalisboa.pt

The capital welcomes a new festival dedicated to the Portuguese language. The first edition of Nossa Lisboa (Our Lisboa) will involve artists who live in Greater Lisboa, who are from the capital or who have roots in the communities of Portuguese-speaking countries. Over two days, the Altice Arena will dedicate three of its performance halls to the festival, allowing very different musicians to perform. From young up-and-coming acts to established artists, Nossa Lisboa seeks to bring great diversity with the aim of representing fellowship, rhythms, colour, joy and the sharing of customs through music. Supported by Lisboa City Council, this festival combines fado with mornas and coladeiras, funaná, kizomba and semba, marrabenta, samba and new music from Brazil.

Oitavas da oficina José Aurélio: joalharia MUDE fora de portas

Until 22nd September, Monday to Friday, from 12pm to 7pm; Saturday from 2pm to 7pm, Sociedade Nacional de Belas Artes (metro: Avenida, Rato | buses: 706, 709, 774, 720, 727, 738, 773).
Free entry. More information at: mude.pt

José Aurélio's jewellery integrates the 1st Biennial Contemporary Jewelry from Lisboa and is on display to acknowledge and promote the work of this artist who is better known for his sculptural work. A total of 150 items of jewellery were chosen, which are distinguished by their expressiveness and symbolism, and which use a diverse range of materials, including enamelled and glazed ceramics, gold, silver, lead, plastic and coral. More than just objects dedicated to a single recipient, these items of jewellery represent emotional ties and are manifestations of his creative process, which is based on experimenting with materials. In this exhibition, fine and simple materials are combined using archaic or erudite techniques that reveal José Aurélio to be the unique artist he is. The exhibition also includes some sculptures that serve to illustrate the affinities between the two forms of expression that are so present in this artist's life.

EXHIBITIONS

Vi o reino renovar Arte no tempo de D. Manuel I

Until 26th September, Tuesday to Sunday, from 10am to 6pm, Museu Nacional de Arte Antiga, Rua das Janelas Verdes (buses: 713, 714, 727, 728, 732, 760 | trams 15, 18 and 25). Tickets: general, 6 euros. More information at: museudearteantiga.pt

More than just an exhibition about artistic practices during the reign of King Manuel I and without the intention of presenting a biographical or political approach to the monarch, this exhibition seeks to analyse the relationship between the king and artistic practice, which was one of the most important in Portuguese history. King Manuel promoted, sponsored and commissioned works of architecture, illumination, painting, sculpture and the decorative arts, using artistic output in his strategy of royal representation and affirmation. In the year in which we commemorate the 500th anniversary of the king's death, "I saw the kingdom turn: Art From the Time of King Manuel I" seeks to show, in three themed sections, the importance that art came to achieve in Portugal.

Meu amigo Obras e documentos da coleção Ernesto de Sousa

Until 26th September, Tuesday to Friday from 10am to 6pm, last entry 5.30pm, weekends from 10am to 2pm and from 3pm to 6pm, Museu Nacional de Arte Contemporânea, Rua do Capelo (metro: Baixa-Chiado | buses: 60, 208, 758 | trams: 24 and 28). Tickets: 4.50 euros. More information at: museuarteccontemporanea.gov.pt

This exhibition contains around 120 works by 62 artists, and is part of a series of events commemorating the centenary of the birth of Ernesto da Sousa, one of contemporary Portugal's most important figures whose influence continues to this day. Visitors can explore all seven sections of this exhibit, which include paintings, drawings, engraving, sculpture, photography, objects and a range of documents. In addition to the different art forms, the styles also vary, ranging from neo-realism, inspired by Almada Negreiros and Wolf Vostell, to cinema, mixed-media, popular art, Alternativa Zero, and much more.

MIL

15th, 16th and 17th September, Hub Criativo do Beato, Rua da Manutenção, 118 (metro: Oriente | buses: 718, 742, 759 | train: Sintra line, Oriente station). Tickets: 25 euros. More information at: millisboa.com

---

MIL is back with masterclasses, keynotes, discussions and workshops which revive the debate over the future of music and culture. With a programme of 50 concerts over three days, the festival presents a renewed artistic and educational programme that anticipates future trends with a commitment to those that are ignored by the pre-established commercial formulas. The big highlights of this year are the national debuts of Carla Prata, a Luso-Angolan artist living in London; YNDI, a French-Brazilian songwriter who conquered the COLORS show with "Ailleurs"; Naima Bock, the bass player with Goat Girl who is striking out on her own; Queralt Lahoz, a rising star of the Spanish urban music scene who combines rap, flamenco, R&B and copla; and Dino Brandão, EU.CLIDES and Kelman Duran, the Dominican producer who is preparing a new project to be launched in Portugal.

The history of the pavements of Lisboa

There are good reasons to look at the ground in Lisboa. While the views of the city, its old buildings, its historic monuments and its cosmopolitan lifestyle are good enough reason to visit and discover the Portuguese capital, its pavements are the reason to appreciate the city from top to bottom - which includes the floor, of course.

The story of Portuguese paving (calçada portuguesa) begins in Lisboa: more precisely, it started at the Castelo de São Jorge in the 19th century, when the building was being used as a prison. The first men to lay Portuguese paving and who made this surface an ornamental style so typical of Lisboa were a group of convicts serving time. The first pavement mosaic arose from the need to pave the site, with the work resulting in a zig-zag pattern with contrasts between the white and the black stones, which caught the attention of curious onlookers. The style became so popular that it spread across the entire city.

Over time, some of the designs were altered, and the work that had been initially carried out by prisoners became a profession. Nowadays, this style of paving continues to decorate the city's seven hills and the importance of the art is eternalised in the statue of a paver (calceteiro) laying stones, which can be found in the Praça dos Restauradores.

There are many roads and squares in Lisboa that are covered in pavements with designs created using the contrast between the white and black stones. In the Chiado you will find a round maze that culminates at the statue of the poet Fernando Pessoa. And speaking of poets, in nearby Praça Luís de Camões, beside the statue of the author of The Lusíadas, there are mermaids and caravels in tribute to his written legacy.

On the Avenida da Liberdade the patterns on the ground are many, ranging from abstract to floral designs. At the Praça do Império, opposite the Mosteiro dos Jerónimos, you will find the signs of the zodiac, alongside an armillary sphere. Other large paved works that catch the attention of passers-by are the 50-metre diameter compass rose next to the Padrão dos Descobrimentos and, in the Alfama, the portrait tribute to the fado singer Amália Rodrigues by the artist Vhils. For the more attentive, there is another secret hidden in the Lisboa pavement mosaics. There are many small designs created by the calceteiros as a way of signing their work. They can be four-leaf clovers, hearts or stars. They are small shapes that are not part of the official design or pattern, created by the workers on purpose to leave their mark. Only their fellow calceteiros and visitors with a keen eye for detail will recognise them. Discover for yourself.

The director and artist will also create his first stage musical, inspired by the creative universe of Andy Warhol's Factory, in collaboration with Portuguese musicians and performers. The festival will also pay tribute to Jean Genet with the screening of "Querelle", a classic 1982 film by Fassbinder, and with two performances that reinterpret "Un Chant D'Amour", the author's only cinematographic incursion which opened the first Queer Lisboa in 1997.

There is a set of panels dating from the 18th century that represent the miracles of St Anthony. The scenes describing and portraying the miraculous deeds of the saint from Lisboa are fairly common in the chapels and churches dedicated to him. They are present in murals and tiled panels and can be seen in a number of countries in addition to Portugal, including Spain and Italy. At this exhibition you will see some of these panels, as well as the stories and miraculous deeds of St Anthony.

While he had English descendants, Francis Smith was born in Portugal and studied in Paris, where he met Eduardo Viana, Emérico Nunes and Amadeo de Souza-Cardoso. From 1907 he dedicated himself to painting memories of Lisboa, its traditional neighbourhoods, staircases, parks and gardens, confirming his place as an artist who shaped Portuguese Modernism. This exhibition presents the first in-depth research into the life and work of Francis Smith, and is the result of the study developed by Jorge Costa as a researcher under the auspices of a project that brings together such institutions as Universidade NOVA FCSH, the Instituto de História da Arte (Art History Institute), the Museu Nacional de Arte Contemporânea (National Museum of Contemporary Art) and the Millennium bcp Foundation.

Seja dia ou seja noite pouco importa

This exhibition includes previously unseen works by Pedro Calapez and André Gomes. "Be it day or night, it matters not" consists of paintings, drawings and photographs by the artists that combine their visions and means of expression following a long period of complicity in each of their individual works. This exhibition can be described as an improbable encounter, or even a "disenchantment" that culminated in an unlikely meeting simply because Pedro Calapez and André Gomes are completely different. However, the exhibition is understood as a coherent project, with strong correlations and expository unity, due to the continuum of themes and ideas in the practices of these two artists.

The Chinese artist and activist, Ai Weiwei, who is renowned for his ability to use art to raise social and political issues, brings his show, Rapture, to Portugal. It is thus a presentation of two creative dimensions: reality and fantasy. On the one hand, the more realistic part of the exhibition includes Snake Ceiling, an installation in the shape of a serpent made from children's backpacks in memory of the schoolchildren who died in the Sichuan earthquake, and Law of the Journey, which is an allusion to the refugee crisis. The other part of the exhibition is more fantastic in its concept, using materials, techniques and ancient symbolic elements to reveal something of Chinese traditions and iconography.
