'Between heaven and hell' is the motto for the fourth edition of the festival that celebrates the opera and brings it closer to the general public. This year, from supreme pleasure to the deepest fear, Operafest will include great classics such as Mozart's 'The Magic Flute', Gustavo Sumpta's performance 'Hidden Forces' and the free course 'Journey to the World of Opera'. There is also room for Maratona Ópera XXI, the contemporary opera contest, that will present emerging singers. # City of Lisboa

Useful Information

Lisboa is the capital of Portugal and the country's biggest city, located on the estuary of the Tejo river, on the European Atlantic coast. It is continental Europe's westernmost capital.

Portugal's official language is Portuguese. Derived from Latin roots, Portuguese is the third most spoken European language in the world, with around 200 million speakers.

Around 3 million people live in the Lisboa region, with around 600 thousand living in the capital itself. The Portuguese Constitution allows religious freedom, with various religions being practised in Portugal.

Electric voltage: 230 / 400 volts, on a 50-hertz frequency. The electric sockets adhere to European standards. Blade plugs (US standard) must be used in conjunction with a 230 volts transformer, as well as an adaptor.

In Lisboa winters are mild and summers hot, though moderated by its location near the sea. During spring and autumn there are usually sunny days with mild temperatures.

Local currency and Payments

The Euro is Portugal's official currency, having been introduced in January 2002. 1 Euro is divided into 100 cents. There are coins of 1, 2, 5, 10, 20 and 50 cents and 1 and 2 Euros. The bills can be distinguished by their size and colour and have the following face values: 5, 10, 20, 50, 100, 200 and 500 Euros. In Portugal, payments can be made in cash, bank transfer, cheque, credit cards and debit cards.

For this purpose, you must present an identification document (passport or other official) to the seller, who will provide proof of the purchase registration. More information at: festivaltodos.com

The contemporary performative arts invite everyone to dive into a cultural interaction that destroys territorial barriers and ghettos associated with immigration in an inclusive idea of culture. Music, theatre, dance, street art, performance, as well as the picture exhibitions and the short film showings celebrate Lisboa's interculturality. Art is joined by the gastronomic diversity with seasonings from the four corners of the world. In this 15th edition, besides having more activities, the event is also inaugurating the tour mode, creating an opportunity for greater contact among the public and of the public with the artists.

It lasts for two intense days of music, gatherings, talks, workshops, party and, above all, cultural and artistic sharing. The days begin with debates; the first questions visibility in a multicultural Lisboa and the second focuses on co-creation and participatory art. Both days unfold to the sound of different performances, which include orchestras, Djs, dance and other presentations.

PATRIMÓNIO DA
HERITAGE OF

The song of Lisboa and the World

Classified as Intangible Cultural Heritage of Humanity by UNESCO since November 2011, Fado is the purest expression of Lisboa's "soul". Much more than just a song, Fado is a musical manifestation of feeling Portuguese and a city's way of life, always accompanied by the solemn and melancholy chords of the Portuguese guitar.

Considered a brand inseparable from the culture and tradition of the Portuguese capital, Fado has been for at least two centuries, part of the city's heritage that endowed it with soul and voice. But since influences from overseas, and from various cultures which arrived in Lisboa can also be heard in Fado, Lisboa's song is now deservedly a shared heritage with the world. Inspired from a simple and sentimental language, Fado's universal character surpasses all barriers and is now enjoyed by millions of fans worldwide. This internationalization of Fado is greatly due to the charisma and the voice of Amália Rodrigues, the most renowned fado singer of all time, who from the 1950's took Lisboa's song to the most prestigious venues, from Russia to Japan. More recently, a new generation of singers of this genre has given the song a new vitality, placing it in the circuits of World Music. The ultimate international recognition of Fado comes with UNESCO's highest recognition, whose award of the Intangible Heritage of Humanity title makes this a perfect example of how a centuries-old tradition of a city becomes the identity symbol of a people. Therefore, whenever the lights are dimmed in a fado house and someone says "Silence, Fado is about to be sung", this is not just a ritual that is being performed. It is, as Amália Rodrigues would say, "a strange form of life" that is being renewed.

Fado Houses

Here visitors can experience the whole atmosphere and rituals associated with Lisboa's song and listen to this language of emotions. Set in the historic districts of the city such as Alfama, Bairro Alto, Lapa and Alcântara, there are diverse establishments which host regular performances of fado, with resident artists.

In Lisboa, with eyes set on the sea

Lisboa is accompanied by the Atlantic Ocean in all of its extension. For a roadmap with eyes set on the sea, there are several points worth exploring. From Ericeira, where it is said that 'the ocean is bluer', to Arrábida, where the whitish limestone cliffs draw the line separating the mountain range from immense water. On the way, and equally unmissable, are observation points, such as the Palaces and the nooks of Serra de Sintra, the westernmost point of continental Europe, Cabo da Roca, and Cascais immediately next to it.

If Ericeira highlights the colour of the water, there is nothing like 'seeing to believe' and confirm. Once in this fishing village, a little more than 30 minutes from the centre of Lisboa, there are stops and paths to be included. From the centre of the village, with its cobbled alleys and rigorously painted houses and windows, one heads towards the sea and the fishermen beach, which several meter high wall is a mandatory stopping point to contemplate the ocean.

The road follows the coast line and heads for Sintra, for its Palaces and nooks in the Serra, that are unique viewpoints with the ocean in the distance. The balcony of Palácio da Pena is just an example, as well as the ramparts of Castelo dos Mouros or the Peninha viewpoint. From any one of these points, it is possible to contemplate the vegetation of Parque Natural Sintra-Cascais, the houses in the village and the sea in the background. Between Sintra and Cascais, through the roads of the Serra or through the main route, there is still another mandatory stop: Cabo da Roca. At the place where 'earth ends and the sea begins', about 140 meters above sea level, Portugal's westernmost point offers a panoramic view over the immensity of the Atlantic Ocean, in a place where it is possible to see the Portuguese coast up to Almada.

Following the route, there is an unobstructed landscape with the waves in the distance. The first image, composed of a vast beach and its characteristic dunes, lets us know that we have reached Cascais, where we are welcomed by the Guincho beach. Its windy characteristics make it very appreciated for several water sports, such as surf, windsurf or kitesurf.

Continuing the way along the coast, the next stop is called Boca do Inferno (Hell's Mouth), which is one of the most emblematic viewpoints of Cascais. The name is due not only to the tremendous impact of the waves which can be felt here, but also to the morphological analogy. It is very probable that in the past it may have been a cavern and that the upper layers were destroyed, leaving an enormous open hole.

South of the bridge over the Tejo, the unavoidable beauty of the view over the Atlantic continues. Right away we have to point out the Protected Landscape of the Fossil Cliff of Costa de Caparica, which stretches along the coastline until Lagoa de Albufeira. Over time, erosion has shaped the cliffs, that, today, are home to some birds of prey, such as the round-winged eagle and the tower owl. The most effective spot to observe every detail of this landscape is the viewpoint at Convento dos Capuchos, that offers a panoramic view from Serra de Sintra to Cabo Espichel.

In a journey through Serra da Arrábida, where we can find the highest seaside cliffs in continental Portugal, there are also viewpoints to observe nature and the ocean in the background, as well as hidden caverns, which allow for unique images of the surrounding landscape.

From the rough seas of Ericeira and Sintra to the (almost) hidden paradise of Arrábida, Lisboa breathes ocean in all of its extension. Discover by yourself.

EXHIBITIONS

On the Path of Oriental Fans

Until 10th September; from Tuesday to Sunday; from 10 am to 6 pm; Museu do Oriente; Av. Brasília, Doca de Alcântara (buses: 712, 713, 714, 727, 742, 751, 756, 728, 732, 760, 720, 738 | trams: 15E, 18E | train: Cascais, Alcântara-Mar station). Tickets: 6 euros. More information at: foriente.pt

Since its introduction in the west, the fan has become an object of fascination in which powerful social and cultural messages converge: luxury, exoticism, status and power. 'Na Senda dos Leques Orientais' presents 180 pieces that trace the history, characteristics and uses of the Chinese fan in Europe from the 16th century onwards. The exhibition features rare specimens, various objects of painting, sculpture, photography and porcelain, as well as graphic documents that illustrate their usefulness. This showing recreates the history of the fan, from its origin and manufacturing processes to its functions in different contexts.

In Brute: Touching Relationships

Until 10th September; from Tuesday to Sunday; from 10 am to 7 pm; last entry at 6:30 pm; Museu CBB; Praça do Império (buses: 28, 714, 727, 729, 751 | tram: 15 | train: Cascais line; station: Belém). Tickets: 5 euros, general. More information at: ccb.pt

The exhibition 'Em Bruto: Relações Comoventes' is a large installation which adapts itself to the place where it is presented. From Fundación Cerezales Antonino y Cinia de Léon, in Spain, to CCB, the artistic structure starts from beams, trestles and joists that summon notions of spatial reconstruction and reconfiguration. The set created is therefore as much physical as a reflection on architecture, the city, space and modernity. For this reason, the exhibition includes a reading room, where it is possible to consult books mentioned in the installation, and an introductory room to the new piece, composed of a series of elements that the author, Fernanda Fragateiro, has called Materials Lab.

Archipelago Hervé Di Rosa

Until 11th September; from Wednesday to Monday; from noon to 6 pm; MAAT – Museu de Arte, Arquitetura e Tecnologia; Av. Brasília (train: Cascais line, Belém station | buses: 728, 714, 727, 729, 751 | tram: 15). Tickets: general, 7 euros. More information at: maat.pt

Archipelago Hervé Di Rosa is an invitation to explore and discover new worlds. Starting from a parallelism with the travels narrated by Júlio Verne, this exhibition proposes a visit to the MIAM – Musée International des Arts Modestes, founded by Hervé Di Rosa and Bernard Belluc, through a vast selection of works gathered over more than 40 years. From comics to commercial art, not forgetting traditional or naïve art, art brut, psychedelia and the cinema, there is much to see.

¿Is the Earth still round?

¿A Terra ainda é redonda? This is the question that the artist Cristina Ataíde asks in an exhibition which presents the different dimensions of changing matter. With several works created on purpose to be included in the exhibition, it is possible to discover the artist's style and language, which are created by an inner need and generate forms that move between the topological and the psychic, through the observation of the landscape. Among drawings, sculptures and installations, there are 40 works to enjoy and with which to establish connections between the material and the spiritual.

Vita Prima. Santo António em Portugal is intended to be a journey through the life of the young Fernando de Bulhões. Santo António had two lives with a turning point in joining the Order of Friars Minor. If, on the one hand, in Italy and France, he is better known as a preacher and teacher of this Order, on the other hand, in Portugal, oral tradition has tried to preserve the memory of this figure's childhood and youth. This exhibition is a proposal to understand how the saint and the values associated with him became pillars of Lisboa's identity.

Over 26 years, Luís Caetano Pereira de Carvalho built the centre piece of the exhibition 'Cidade-Miniatura', which the museum team affectionately calls 'the fireman's model'. The meticulous work made in polychrome wood is 2,21 meters long and 0,89 meters wide, in a 1:1000 scale. This model represents Lisboa in the first decades of the 20th century. It represents all the carefully studied buildings which were created with the characteristics and colours of the time, revealing the evolution of the city and the changes time has brought about since then.
