During the month of May, it will be possible to attend the premiere of the play 'Este Peixe é um Robalo', by António Alvarenga and Cristóvão Cunha, as well as the performance 'Looking from a window above', by Jessica Guez, that presents an exhibition in a show which is born from the simple desire to dance with her paintings.

Cumplicidades Festival

The Cumplicidades Festival challenges artists to create under a certain angle related to the theme 'Limites e fronteiras' (Limits and borders). With Portuguese and foreign artists, both emerging and renowned, whose work areas can range from dance to artistic disciplines that work the body and movement, the performances focus on the thought around the concept of border as a limit and the limit that determines a border. We mean cultural borders, between countries, regions, cities, neighbourhoods, the body itself, the inner places. The festival promotes the urban dynamic with a programme that aims at admiration and restlessness.

City of Lisboa

Useful Information

Lisboa is the capital of Portugal and the country's biggest city, located on the estuary of the Tejo river, on the European Atlantic coast. It is continental Europe's westernmost capital.

Portugal's official language is Portuguese. Derived from Latin roots, Portuguese is the third most spoken European language in the world, with around 200 million speakers.

Around 3 million people live in the Lisboa region, with around 600 thousand living in the capital itself. The Portuguese Constitution allows religious freedom, with various religions being practised in Portugal.

Electric voltage: 230 / 400 volts, on a 50-hertz frequency. The electric sockets adhere to European standards. Blade plugs (US standard) must be used in conjunction with a 230 volts transformer, as well as an adaptor.

In Lisboa winters are mild and summers hot, though moderated by its location near the sea. During spring and autumn there are usually sunny days with mild temperatures.

Local currency and Payments

The Euro is Portugal's official currency, having been introduced in January 2002. 1 Euro is divided into 100 cents. There are coins of 1, 2, 5, 10, 20 and 50 cents and 1 and 2 Euros. The bills can be distinguished by their size and colour and have the following face values: 5, 10, 20, 50, 100, 200 and 500 Euros. In Portugal, payments can be made in cash, bank transfer, cheque, credit cards and debit cards.

FESTIVALS

MOGA Caparica

31st May to 4th June; in different places in Costa da Caparica (bus: 161, departing from: Praça do Areeiro). Tickets: from 48 euros. More information at: mogafestival.com

The MOGA festival is a fusion of electronic music, beach parties and several events happening simultaneously. Inspired by the vibrations of the Atlantic, it takes place both in Essaouira, in Morocco, and in Costa da Caparica. The name derives from the word Mogador, which is how the Portuguese, several centuries ago, called the Moroccan land. But Moga is also the name of a tribe, a community of nomads, who share values and lifestyles that can be experienced at the festival. Between sunset parties at the beach, sea parties, brunches, surf and yoga, there are electronic music concerts, with artists such as Bradley Zero, Shanti Celeste, Danilo Plessow (MCDE), Heidi Lawden & Lovefingers, Gerd Janson, Kerri Chandler, Sadar Bahar, Hunee, Chaim b2b Jenia Parsol, Jimi Jules and many others.

Brasil Vibes The Best of Brazil in Portugal

26th May; at 8 pm; Altice Arena; Parque das Nações (metro: Oriente | buses: 26B, 208, 210, 705, 708, 725, 728, 744, 759, 782 | train: Oriente). Tickets: from 45 to 85 euros. More information at: vibesandbeats.pt

The rhythm of Brazilian music will invade Lisboa for a new festival that wants to show 'O Melhor do Brasil em Portugal' to the sound of Ivete Sangalo, Ana Castela and Gustavo Mioto. To show different aspects of the music of this brother country, Ivete Sangalo opens the show with 'Tudo Colorido', a dynamic production, with rhythm, light, sound and visual animations, naturally not forgetting hits like 'Festa', 'Quando a chuva passar' or 'Se eu não te amasse tanto assim'. From the veterans to the new generation, Ana Castela, who is the most streamed artist on Spotify in Brazil, brings her greatest hits, 'Pipoco', 'Roça em mim' and 'Neon', to the Portuguese audience. When we talk about the different Brazilian rhythms, we cannot forget the sertanejo and therefore Gustavo Mioto goes on stage to represent it with songs like 'Com ou sem mim', the most played song on the radio in Brazil in 2020.

PATRIMÓNIO DA

The song of Lisboa and the World

Classified as Intangible Cultural Heritage of Humanity by UNESCO since November 2011, Fado is the purest expression of Lisboa's "soul". Much more than just a song, Fado is a musical manifestation of feeling Portuguese and a city's way of life, always accompanied by the solemn and melancholy chords of the Portuguese guitar.

Considered a brand inseparable from the culture and tradition of the Portuguese capital, Fado has been for at least two centuries, part of the city's heritage that endowed it with soul and voice. But since influences from overseas, and from various cultures which arrived in Lisboa can also be heard in Fado, Lisboa's song is now deservedly a shared heritage with the world. Inspired from a simple and sentimental language, Fado's universal character surpasses all barriers and is now enjoyed by millions of fans worldwide. This internationalization of Fado is greatly due to the charisma and the voice of Amália Rodrigues, the most renowned fado singer of all time, who from the 1950's took Lisboa's song to the most prestigious venues, from Russia to Japan. More recently, a new generation of singers of this genre has given the song a new vitality, placing it in the circuits of World Music. The ultimate international recognition of Fado comes with UNESCO's highest recognition, whose award of the Intangible Heritage of Humanity title makes this a perfect example of how a centuries-old tradition of a city becomes the identity symbol of a people. Therefore, whenever the lights are dimmed in a fado house and someone says "Silence, Fado is about to be sung", this is not just a ritual that is being performed. It is, as Amália Rodrigues would say, "a strange form of life" that is being renewed.

Fado Houses

Here visitors can experience the whole atmosphere and rituals associated with Lisboa's song and listen to this language of emotions. Set in the historic districts of the city such as Alfama, Bairro Alto, Lapa and Alcântara, there are diverse establishments which host regular performances of fado, with resident artists.

Considered to be one of the greatest operatic creations, the work by Italian composer Giuseppe Verdi goes on stage in Portugal. With four acts and eight scenes, the story goes back to ancient Egypt and the invasion of Ethiopia. The drama unfolds between the Ethiopian princess made a slave, Aida, and the Egyptian general Radamés, commander of the occupying forces. Although his love was reciprocated, Radamés dreamed of returning to his country crowned with a laurel wreath for his victorious battles. On the other hand, the king of Ethiopia, Aida's father, organized the troops in an attempt to free his daughter and condemn Radamés for Aida's captivity and slavery.

The gardens of Lisboa

In May, Spring reveals itself in all its splendour in Lisboa. Flowers of the most varied colours and shapes bloom, making the walks through the streets and the gardens so much more inviting.

With a view of the Tejo, benches in the shadow and an enormous lawn to enjoy the city landscape, Parque Eduardo VII is the largest and one of the best-known green spaces in Lisboa. Covering 25 hectares, it is composed of a central lawn bordered by Portuguese cobblestone sidewalks, which divide the garden in two green areas. Besides the vast wooded area, in the north part we can find the Estufa Fria (Cold Greenhouse) and the Estufa Quente (Hot Greenhouse). Here, the faunal diversity is integrated into a landscape with creeks and waterfalls, which paths, among palm trees and banana trees, lead the curious visitors to a wide plant universe, that is also inhabited by some tropical birds.

A few metres ahead, we can take the Elevador do Lavra (Lavra funicular) to the top of one of Lisboa's hills, where Jardim do Torel stands out for its panoramic view over Avenida da Liberdade and the Baixa Pombalina (the downtown of Lisboa). It was created with multiple levels and here we can find lawns, a pool and benches to rest in the shadow, read a book or simply enjoy the landscape.

There are many examples of green spaces. Jardim Botânico da Ajuda (Ajuda Botanical Garden), with over 250 years of history, was created with the aim of gathering the greatest possible faunal variety and has a vast quantity of aromatic and medicinal plants to this day. Parque Tejo, on its turn, is the largest green space at Parque das Nações and one of the richest in terms of biodiversity, profiting from its proximity to the river, which makes it the perfect place to spend time as a family or among friends, enjoying the city.

Parque Botânico de Monteiro-Mor (Monteiro-Mor Botanical Park), at Lumiar, is another pleasant space to be in contact with nature, as well as Jardim da Estrela, with a romantic inspiration and designed as an English garden. To these we must add Jardim da Gulbenkian, with more than 230 plant and at least 40 bird species, Parque Bensaúde and its maple avenue and Jardim da Cerca da Graça, which has three viewpoints, a lawn and an orchard.

40 minutes away from the centre of Lisboa, Sintra offers various green spaces, among which the fantastic mountain range stands out with its unique paths. But there are other corners to be discovered, such as Quinta da Ribafría, a 16th century manor, often the stage for cultural events, or Parque da Liberdade. The latter is the very definition of garden in the centre of the historic village of Sintra, with an essentially natural vegetation cover and multiple ecological niches. In Cascais, the highlight goes to Parque Marechal Carmona, perfect for romantic strolls, spending time as a family, catching some sun or enjoying the life of the ducks, the roosters or the peacocks walking around. In that same municipality, the Parque Urbano Bosque dos Gaios is the best choice for those who cannot do without a bicycle ride, a walk or an outdoor exercise circuit.

Parque da Paz, on the south bank of the Tejo, in Almada, can be added to this vast list with 50 hectares of lawns and paths to walk or exercise.

Among the seven hills, in the centre of the outskirts of Lisboa, there are many gardens to discover. Find out for yourself.

How does Japan prepare for the risk of almost permanent destruction? Alice F. Martins presents the answer in the photographic exhibition 'Uma Barreira contra o Pacífico'. With 46 black and white pictures, the artist portrays Hudai, the village that survived almost intact the tsunami which swept the northeast of the Japanese coast after the big earthquake of 2011. The reason is the 200 meter long and 15,5-meter-high anti-tsunami barrier of walls and hydraulic gates. This kind of construction is not unusual in Japan; however, this infrastructure stands out for its concept, adaptation to the region's topography and for being planned based on past catastrophes.
